HURT TRADE,
BARNES SAYS

Chairman of U. S. C. of C.
Tells Coolidge Corporation Tax and Farm Relief Bills Are "Destructive and Suppressive."

DISCOURAGING TO BUSINESS, HE AVERS

Calls for Definite Action to Bring About Intelligent Team Play Between the Government and Restore Confidence.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 12.—Signs of "manifest discouragement of the spirit of confident enterprise" in the business world were pointed out to President Coolidge today by Julius H. Barnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who laid the entire blame
on the legislative activities of Congress.

Returning from the meeting at Cleveland of the chamber, Barnes told the President that while in Europe there is hopefulness, "declining security and commodity
prices at home reflect misgivings
which could be sound and constructive legislation be easily changed to energy and enterprise
in industry, with more secure employment and earnings."

Barnes declared the corporation taxes sound fundamentals, but the senate was not unlike the corporation tax which, he asserted,
led to widespread unemployment
in 1921. The McNary-Haugen and Norris-Sinclair farm relief bills, he said, would be "destructive and suppressive of the will to do business."

A Manifest Discouragement.
The business condition today displays sound fundamentals, but a manifest discouragement of the spirit of confident enterprise," Barnes said in a summary of the statement he presented to the President.

"In agriculture, conditions are improving. The increased acreage of spring-sown grains shows confidence and energy on the farm and shows as well an intelligent shift to better paying crops. Corn, oats and flax show increased sowings and the prices of those grains are today on a full import basis with full duty protection.

The outlook is promising for better yields of wheat in those sections that suffered last year and with prices of high-grade wheat in Kansas City and Minneapolis 20 to 25 cents higher than in Canada, the farm is securing a measure of benefit from the national policy of protection. Co-operative marketing methods are improving.

Industry Needs Reassurance.
"Industry greatly needs a surtax
policy which will attract capital
for its extension and stimulation.
It needs reassurance that there will be no backward steps in the policy of railroad legislation, such as the Howell-Barkeley bill eliminating the public voice in railroad labor disputes would be. It needs the most economy in government expenditures, and certainly no additional burden such as the bonus would lay on national finance. It needs definite finish to all proposals that the government buy, sell and manufacture alongside private business, thus destroying confidence, the very basis of industry."

"It is to be hoped that a hopeful policy and encouraging action may be early made effective. There is no reason why business hesitancy
should extend to conditions of unemployment, if there is intelligent team play between Government and industry."

REAL ESTATE RING TO KEEP UP CAPITAL RENTS IS ALLEGED

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 12.—Exposed in the District of Columbia of an apparently well organized real estate ring designed to maintain high rents was charged yesterday by Chairman Ball of the Senate District Committee in urging extension of the war measure granting the Federal Rent Commission here.

He said there was "evidence of false sales to create a fictitious value, and that a committee investigation had shown 32 apartment houses carrying trusts accumulating $9,000,000 in excess of the sales price at the last transfer."

ZR-3 AIRSHIP TO HAVE BRAKES AND REVERSING MOTORS

Power of Slowing Down Before Strong Wind Claimed for Zeppelin Coming to U. S.

By the Associated Press.
LAKEHURST, N. J., May 12.—
Brakes on an airship with five 400-horsepower engines that will run
forward or reverse without reverse gears, will be introduced into the United States when the new German-built Zeppelin, ZR-3, flies
from Friedrichshaven to Lakehurst,
a distance of 4500 nautical miles,
this summer.

With powers of braking and reversing the motors, naval officials said today, the ZR-3 could easily be put to rest mooring mast and slow down when running before a strong wind.

Capt. Ernest A. Lehmann, who came to the United States to arrange for the delivery of the ship,
said the ZR-3, the finest and most efficient of 12 airships built by the Zeppelin company, would revolutionize commercial aviation in this country.

More than 44 tons of useful load
can be shot through the air at 80 miles an hour by the ZR-3, he said, while 10 or 15 tons cargo can be taken on long-distance hauls. Provision has been made for 30 passengers and baggage.

Aside from passenger, mail or packet transportation, Capt. Lehmann predicted unlimited uses for the ZR-3. For scientific research, photography and study of topography, the Zeppelin-type ship, he said, has no rival because of its ability to hover over any selected area for an extended time. The Zeppelin could rush large medical stores, food and clothing to isolated regions stricken by flood, fire or earthquake. "It is regarded as superior to airplanes for forest patrol
work."

The ZR-3 probably will be put into commercial operation within a year, it is stated.

Jr., K. Tener and Fred Upham.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 12.—A number of widely known men were removed from the list of dollar-a-year secret agents when Attorney-General Stone took office
last month, but the last of them
has been separated from the service.

The list as submitted to the Senate Daugherty committee today by the Justice Department included Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., Charles
D. Hiles, former chairman of the Republican National Committee;
Federal Judge George A. Carpenter of Chicago; John K. Tener, former chairman of the Pennsylvania and baseball magnate; former Senator
T. Coleman Dupont of Delaware; I.
H. Hoover, chief usher at the White House; Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, and E. B. Mc-Lean, publisher of the Washington Post.

CONFER WITH PRESIDENT
ON WATERWAY LEGISLATION

Congressman Newton and Others
Discuss Rivers and Harbors Bill With Coolidge.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, May 12.—James E. Smith of St. Louis, president of the Mississippi Valley Association; Chairman Wallace Dempsey of the House Rivers and Harbors Committee, and Representative Newton conferred with President Coolidge for a half hour this morning about the rivers and harbors bill, which recently was favorably reported to the House.

This is the second conference between the two groups, and this delegation has had with the President on waterway legislation. The rivers and harbors bill provides that the projects approved by the army engineers will be completed within five years, including all work on the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio Rivers.

FIREMAN HURT IN FIGHTING $40,000
FIRE DOWNTOWN

Thousands of Persons on Way to Work See Blaze
in Building at 514 Locust Street.

FLAMES BREAK OUT
ON THE FIFTH FLOOR

Confined to Portion of 5-Story Structure Occupied
by J. H. Tiemeyer Carpet Co.

Thousands of workers in the heart of the downtown district were interrupted on their way to work when a fire, discovered on the top floor of the five-story building occupied by the J. H. Tie-meyer Carpet Co., at 514 Locust street, at 7:45 a. m. today, was fought by apparatus assembled by a general alarm. Flames were extinguished with an estimated loss in excess of $40,000 and resulted in serious injuries to one fireman.

The blaze, discovered at the peak hour of street car traffic, caused police and United Railways officials to close the block bounded by Broadway, Locust, Sixth and Olive streets, and passengers arriving on the Olive, Holladay and various Sixth street lines were forced in many instances to walk for several blocks to work. Hundreds, pushing back as the police formed fire lines, other hundreds looked on from windows in the upper stories of surrounding office buildings.

Discovered by Candy Shop Employee.
A foreman in the employment of the Herz-Oakes Candy Co., which occupied the five floors of the eastern portion of the building, was working on the fourth floor and discovered the fire. He turned in the alarm at about the same time a negro employee of the Tiemeyer company entered the building, and ascended an elevator
as far as the second floor, when he smelled smoke.

With smoke pouring from the windows of the top floor, firemen climbed a circular iron fire escape
on the front of the Herz-Oakes and shortly had a dozen lines of hose directed through the windows and on top of the roof, the fire being centered at the rear of the building.
Other firemen mounted a fire escape on the north-and-south alley between Olive and Locust streets
and carried up lines of hose.

Meanwhile members of the Salvage Corps entered the various floors of the Herz-Oakes and Tie-meyer concerns, and also the five floors occupied by the Joseph F.
Huntley Music Co., at 516 Locust street, the third tenant of the building, and sought to protect the stocks.

Section of Wall Falls In.

The blaze burned fiercely in the rear top floor of the portion occupied by the carpet company and used as a storage room for the company. The roof, of tarred roofing material, shortly burned through,
as did the floor beneath, and a section of the rear brick wall tumbling inward, the whole mass for an area of about 40 feet square fell through to the basement.

In this rumbling crash, which could be heard above the cries of firemen and the roar of engines, Edward Hughes of 4529 San Francisco, a member of Salvage Corps
No. 1, was struck by debris. Fellow firemen supported him down
the alley fire escape, where a waiting ambulance took him to city hospital.

There were more than 100 gli-
employees of the candy company, who ran from the building in their working aprons and uniforms.
They gathered in the lobby of the Chamber of Commerce building,
across the street, where they remained until ordered to return.

Though the fire seemed to be under control within half an hour,
firemen continued to pour water
into the building, with heavy damage to the stocks of the carpet company and minor damage to the stocks of the candy company and music company.

Estimates of the Loss.
Chief Palmer estimated the damage to stocks and building at about $40,000. Clarence Tiemeyer, a son of the owner of the carpet company, estimated the damage in excess of $40,000. The building is owned by the Hart-Semple Estate,
and losses both to stocks and buildings were insured. Origin of the fire was not determined.

erly winds were whipping a fairly heavy snow here early today, while the temperature dropped close to freezing.

23 INDICTMENTS
AGAINST HOLLAND
BANK OFFICERS

President E. L. Sanford, Board Chairman, Two Vice-Presidents and Cashier Named.

RECEIVING DEPOSITS
BASIS OF CHARGE

Grand Jury Report Says
Examiner Discovered Condition, but Bank Was Allowed to Continue.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 12.—
The special grand jury which investigated the Holland Bank failure today returned 23 indictments against five officers of the bank
as follows:
E. L. Sanford, president, four indictments charging forgery,
three charging acceptance of deposits with knowledge that the bank was in failing condition,
and one charging embezzlement.
E. N. Ferguson, chairman of the board, three indictments
charging acceptance of deposits,
one charging embezzlement.
Guy S. Mitchell, vice president,
same.
Claude F. Wright, cashier,
same.
E. G. Rathbone, vice president,
three indictments charging acceptance of deposits.
Sanford's bond will be $40,000,
or $5000 on each indictment, and
the bonds of the others will be the same rate, except that Rathbone's bond will be only $2000 on each indictment.

Discovery of Condition.
When the indictments the grand jury returned a report in which it declared that a State Bank Examiner discovered the bank's weakened condition last July and recommended the closing of the bank,
but that the State Finance Department, after a conference at Jefferson City, permitted the bank to continue.

The examiner last July found
the bank in a "hopeless financial condition," the report said. "The explanation given by the officers of the bank regarding these notes
did not satisfy the examiner, so the examiner caused the files of the company to be examined to Jefferson City to submit their explanation
to the department, which conference resulted in permission to remain in operation."

"Subsequent revelation indicates that the examiner was right, and the bank should have been closed
in July, 1923. In the July examination there were forged and suspicious notes in the files amounting to $210,000; and accommodation notes of $8000, besides the $125,000
questionable notes."

Frank C. Millsbaugh, present State Finance Commissioner, was at the head of the department last July.
The report also censured the inadequacy of the criminal statutes relating to banking, and said that
"the banker criminally inclined has too much protection."

The special grand jury heard 82 witnesses in the bank case. Its report, submitted to Judge Orin Patterson, besides the paragraphs quoted as to last July's occurrence,
was:

"We beg leave to submit the following results of our exhaustive research and careful deliberations as to the cause of the calamitous
failure of the Holland Banking Company, and to determine who was responsible for same.

"No spirit of revenge or prelu-dice was manifested in any of the jurors, but to the contrary a spirit of fairness and a desire to be just was constantly in evidence.
"We realized that the public
was growing impatient by reason of the delayed report of the jury.
The detailed reports of the press
gave them a knowledge of the failure and its cause and the stupendous amounts involved.

"We brushed aside the clamor of 12,000 depositors and the enraged
public for revenge and wholesale indictments, and confined our investigation to the only real cause of the officers of the bank.

"In our investigation we did not get the assistance from the old employees that we felt we were entitled to in trying to locate crime
and the manipulation of the notes
and the books.

"Experts in Manipulation."
"The officers of the bank seemed to be experts in the art of manipulating the notes, and we were so successful that they were able to deceive all the bank examiners who made the last July examination."

"In April of last year, we find

SAYS 34 DRY LAW VIOLATORS WENT FREE IN 1921 DRIVE

Former Agent Tells Committee Washington Officers Got Off "Easy" When Harding Entered Office.

'CASES GOOD ENOUGH FOR CONVICTION'

Big Liquor Operations of Ungerleider & Co., Cleveland Brokers Who Were Not Punished, Also Revealed.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 12.—When the Harding administration took office in 1921, prohibition agents were engaged in "cleaning up" the liquor situation in Washington. The Senate Judiciary committee was told today that 34 persons and places purveying intoxicants had escaped prosecution.

Next, I sought for documentary evidence among the local communist archives and the records of the Cleveland District Court, which ordered the shooting. The body of the victim, a young man, is still to be found in Ekaterinburg, Russia. The body of the victim, a young man, is still to be found in Ekaterinburg, Russia. The body of the victim, a young man, is still to be found in Ekaterinburg, Russia.

From Ekaterinburg, the trail of evidence eventually took me to Manchuria. There I found six men who had shared, so far as they could, the imperial exile. They told me the story of the Romanovs, the story of the Romanovs, the story of the Romanovs.

Out of all the evidence I venture to restate the tale. If my statement differs in several points from those previously published I can only add that the variations have not been made except after close and critical consideration.

On March 21, 1917, immediately following the first revolution, Emperor Nicholas was placed under arrest in his palace at Tsarskoye Selo, near Petrograd. In August he and his family were moved to Tobolsk, a pleasant city in Western Siberia, where they were housed in the palace of the former Governor-General.

Up to this time they had suffered no serious discomfort. They were allowed to maintain within their palaces something of their former state.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH Writer Describes the Last Days Of the Romanoffs in Captivity And Their Brutal Execution

Newspaperman Makes Careful Investigation of the Murder and Then Declares It Was "One of the Great Crimes of History."

(Following is the first of three installments of a new story by F. A. Mackenzie, the author of "The Romanoffs," a book on the Romanoffs, the result of most careful recent investigations on the part of the writer.)

By F. A. MACKENZIE. (Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.)

MOSCOW, Russia, April 25.—The murder of the ex-Emperor, Nicholas, his wife, children and retainers, at Ekaterinburg, in July, 1918, must rank among the great crimes of the century, not merely because of the high place of the victims and the vast political issues involved but because of the circumstances of horror and brutality which surround it. This was no sudden outbreak of mob passion against a bad or feeble ruler. It was a deliberate, long drawn out affair, following months of degrading captivity of the victims, who were denied trial, were given no opportunity to state their defense, and were refused even a dignified death. They were taken to a cellar, after a few seconds' warning, and were shot like pigs in a pen.

Many of the circumstances surrounding the murder have been obscure. Recently I made an endeavor to clear up some of the points. It was still possible to examine the cellar in which the murder was committed and there was much to be learned from the marks on the walls showing the direction and caliber of the bullets. I found people living around the house, and were shot like pigs in a pen.

SAY STATE ROAD CONTRACT PRICES ARE TOO LOW

Contractors Complain That Highway Commission Is Getting Stone and Sand Too Cheaply.

PERSONAL BONDS TO BE ACCEPTED

These Will Cost State Less Than Surety Company Bonds; Activity on Initiative Petitions.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, May 12.—Commission has executed contracts for delivery of crushed stone and sand for state road construction at prices too low was presented at a meeting of the commission here today.

Recently the commission closed a contract with N. R. McDowell of Kansas City for delivery to the State of 50,000 tons of crushed stone, over a period of three years, at a price of $1.25 a ton.

The commission also closed a contract with N. R. McDowell of Kansas City for delivery to the State of 50,000 tons of crushed stone, over a period of three years, at a price of $1.25 a ton.

Highway Contractors by State contractors are permitted to furnish bonds guaranteeing completion of the road contracts instead of being required to furnish bonds.

The commission adopted a rule which would have the face value of the bonds deposited in the State or municipal government would be required as collateral.

As is known, the three proposals for speeding up road construction recommended by the Highway Commission would authorize a two-cent motor vehicle fund, a 50-cent license fee and a 50-cent tax on the State automobile.

The present road law authorizes a sale of $10,000 in bonds this year, but none next year. A $10,000 bond sale is authorized for ensuing years through 1921.

Wage Increase for Railroad Men. BOSTON, May 12.—A wage agreement providing for an increase of about 10 per cent for the employed by the Boston & Maine Railroad was announced today. The new wage scale will go into effect May 9, and will affect about 2,000 employees.

Rehearing Granted on Wright Blocking Meininger Trials

Continued from Page One. change of the rule in Missouri, had the prosecutor followed our interest of the State.

This public clamor alone would preclude me from voting for a rehearing in this case. Judge Graves stated his views were expressed in a quotation, written by the former Justice Sherwood in another case in the court. The quotation, in part, follows:

"The opinion indicated belief that the Supreme Court had not been consistent in its rulings in previous cases of this nature and that it was not here to be mentioned in this controversy. In which the court had held specifically that the defendant, after being sentenced, could not be retried on the same offense."

Discussing past rulings of the court, Judge Blair stated: "There is no difference in principle so far as the present question is concerned, between the cases in which sentences are given in which after all convictions have been obtained on the same offense, and in which the defendant is retried on the same offense."

The rule is based, he said, on the fact that the Supreme Court ruled in 1872, in the case of the State of Missouri vs. John A. Sweeney, that a person under sentence, committed by another, could not be retried on the same offense.

"If the common law was to be followed, the rule would be a public clamor for a change in the rule. The rule as it stands is a public clamor for a change in the rule. The rule as it stands is a public clamor for a change in the rule."

Rehearing Officer's Duty. "If the common law was to be followed, the rule would be a public clamor for a change in the rule. The rule as it stands is a public clamor for a change in the rule. The rule as it stands is a public clamor for a change in the rule."

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH SPENCER IN ROW AT OIL INQUIRY

Threatens to Appeal to Senate; Walsh and Adams Say They Would Welcome It.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 12.—Investigation of the naval reserve leases was resumed today by the Senate oil committee with another quarrel among committee members.

With Assistant Secretary Finney of the Interior Department as questioning stand, Senator Spencer (Rep.) of Missouri sought to examine him on the basis of a statement made by a House hearing some weeks ago by Edwin Denby while Secretary of the Navy.

Senator Adams (Dem.) of Colorado protested and asked that a quorum of the committee be summoned. Chairman Ladd introduced a bill to take up the matter before the committee, and said the Missouri Senator was not bringing it in "in the proper way."

The action of the Senator in attempting to put in this matter, added Senator Adams, "is an outrageous abuse of the committee." Senator Walsh (Rep.) of Missouri, however, said he would support the action of the Senator.

Under the Teapot Dome lease with H. F. Sinclair, he said, the Government would stand or fall by its policy. He predicted, however, that it would not fail.

Senator Walsh, the "prosecutor" of some of the questions asked Finney, said there was another hot argument with Spencer insisting his examination without interruption.

Ladd ruled that members of the committee could interrupt on each question asked by Finney. He threatened to appeal directly to the Senate, and Walsh and Adams declared they would be glad to have him do so.

The testimony of Finney, given in snatches between the committee and the Government, continued largely of a reiteration of his opinions on the naval oil situation as given in his previous appearances on the witness stand.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH AGAINST INTERSTATE SHIPMENT OF PISTOLS

Congressman Dyer Offers Bill for Fine and Imprisonment and Predicts Quick Action.

Post-Dispatch Bureau. WASHINGTON, May 12.—Interstate shipment of pistols, revolvers and gambling devices would be prohibited by a bill introduced yesterday by Representative L. C. Dyer of St. Louis.

Dyer said today that he expected quick action on the bill, as it had been referred to the Judiciary Committee, of which he is the ranking member. He predicted that it would be on the calendar within a short time.

Ten bills have been introduced in the House this year to prohibit the interstate shipment of pistols, revolvers and gambling devices. Dyer's bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee, of which he is the ranking member. He predicted that it would be on the calendar within a short time.

Representative Thomas L. Ridge (Dem.) of the Sixth Missouri District, introduced a bill similar to Dyer's Saturday, but omitted the provision for a fine of $1,000 or more, and a term of imprisonment of not more than one year.

Senator Adams (Dem.) of Colorado protested and asked that a quorum of the committee be summoned. Chairman Ladd introduced a bill to take up the matter before the committee, and said the Missouri Senator was not bringing it in "in the proper way."

JEALOUS HUSBAND KILLS WIFE AND THEN HIMSELF

Tragedy Occurs in Home of Neighbor on Eager Road After Early Morning Quarrel.

A jealous husband today shot and killed his wife and then took his own life in the same revolver in the kitchen of a neighbor's home on the Eager road, in St. Louis County. The dead are Joseph Elizabeth, 35 years old, and his wife, Mrs. Clara Bowler.

The tragedy was the home of Mrs. Clara Bowler, who lives a few blocks east of the Clark and Adams roads. The Kirkwood-Vernon car tracks, which run into the Bowler home, were the scene of the tragedy. Mrs. Bowler, who is 35 years old, and her husband, Joseph, who is 35 years old, were the victims of the tragedy.

BIG PACKERS ASSAILED
BY LEADER OF GROCERS

Association Head Says Armour & Co. Fails to Keep Trade Pact.

DALLAS, Tex., May 12.—Claiming that the competition of 4000 wholesale grocers would be far better than the monopoly of one benevolent packer in the manufacture and distribution of food products, J. H. McLaurin of Jacksonville, Fla., president of the American Wholesale Grocers' Association, in convention here, directed most of his annual address against the efforts of Armour & Co. to abrogate the voluntary agreement of the five principal packers, entered into Feb. 27, 1920, to cease handling unrelated commodities.

President McLaurin declared that the grocers' association was determined to fight to the end the efforts of the California co-operative canneries to annul the consent decree, and the recent intervention of the packers named to repudiate the consent decree.

Would Bring Monopoly. "Armour & Co. and Swift & Co. present broadly the argument that they are more efficient than the wholesale grocers, and that therefore they should be permitted to continue in the distribution of the unrelated food items," he said. "Carried to its legitimate conclusion, we would have one great packer distributing and manufacturing all the foods used by the public."

He proposed also an amendment to the Federal Trade Commission Act providing for the determination of the fairness or unfairness of a given practice in advance of filing of complaints against individual companies. McLaurin declared that the tax on telephone and telegraph messages was class legislation and an unfair burden and it should be repealed.

The speaker announced the postponement by several carriers to effect rate increases on canned goods, pickles and table sauces through efforts of the association traffic bureau.

AMERICANS SEEK OWNERSHIP OF THE HAPSBURG ESTATES

Syndicate of New Yorkers Fighting for Territory Valued at $100,000,000.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The question of ownership of the immense Hapsburg estates in Czechoslovakia and Jugoslavia, valued at about $100,000,000, in which an American syndicate is believed to be vitally interested, is being referred to the Mixed Court established in Austria under the treaty of Trianon signed just after the dissolution of the monarchy, the New York Herald-Tribune says.

The Americans interested are said to be members of the General Real Estate & Trading Co., a syndicate, which took over the management of the property belonging to the Archduke Frederick of Austria-Hungary before the war and the division of that empire.

The Americans, who received a one-third interest in the corporation, two-thirds being retained by the Archduke and his family, according to the Herald-Tribune, include Charles H. Sabin, president of the Guaranty Trust Co., J. Leonard Repligie, president of the Vanadium Steel Co., Frank Munsey, Dr. Hugh Young, of Johns Hopkins University, and several others. Samuel Untermyer is counsel for the American interests and Rene Viviani, former Premier of France, represents the American organization in Europe.

The right of Czechoslovakia to confiscate the lands is the point at issue. Two official versions of the treaty were signed. One was in French, the other in English. The rights of Czechoslovakia to sequester the property depend on the tribunal's decision as to which of the versions of the treaty is supreme and as to whether or not Frederick was a member of the "Royal or Sovereign" family of Austria-Hungary. The Archduke belongs to a branch of the Hapsburgs, but his family had been distinct from the ruling house for many years.

The Supreme Court of Czechoslovakia decided, against the Americans and they have entered an appeal to the Mixed Court. The disputed territory includes vast forest lands, apartment houses, mines, palaces and farm lands and is estimated to cover 1,200,000 acres.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ"
WHEN FEET HURT

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tormented feet of yours in a "Tiz."
Your toes will wriggle with bath. They'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.
When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz."
It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, calluses and bunions.
There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff
up your feet and cause foot torture.
A few cents buy a box of "Tiz,"
at any drug or department store—
don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel.

Thousands who have dizzy spells,

HEAD OF RIVER PACKET COMPANY DIES AT 74

John E. Massengale One of Last Old-Time Steamboat Captains.

John Edward Massengale, president of the St. Louis-Tennessee River Packet Co., and one of the last of the old-time Mississippi steamboat captains, died of septic pneumonia at 4:15 a. m. today at St. Luke's Hospital. He was 74 years old.

He never had been sick until about a year ago, when years of ex-posure and later on unremitting office work, sometimes without even the weekly day of rest, began to tell on him. He continued handling his affairs at the packet company office on the levee, however,
until last Wednesday, when he suffered a severe chill, and Thursday
his family persuaded him to go to the hospital.

Was Native of Georgia.
His river experience began when he was a youth, and as a young man he moved to Nashville from his home town, Wrightsboro, Ga., to become a steamboat captain on the Cumberland River.
Those were days when the dreams of adventurous youth in the Middle West and South turned toward river life, and most of all to the Mississippi which was plying by huge steamboats that then were marvels of speed as well as luxury.
In time the young captain got his berth on one of the "river palaces,"
and about 1880 removed to St.
Louis as a captain of the famous old Anchor Line, operating between here and New Orleans.

He acquired ownership of several smaller steamboats and put them in river trade out of St. Louis. One of these, the "Judith," met disaster on its second or third trip up the treacherous Missouri, which then,
as now, was made dangerous by numerous sandbars and a constantly shifting channel.

In 1887 Capt. Massengale organized the packet company which was instrumental in developing the sections tapped by the Tennessee River, where railroads are scarce. Its sockets run between St. Louis and the battlefield of Shiloh, Tenn., and from Paducah, Ky., to Florence, Ala. In all the time Capt. Massengale directed their operations in the Tennessee River he never took a trip up that river himself. He kept a pack of hunting dogs, and almost his only recreation was hunting.
He is survived by his widow,
Mrs. Harriet Crane Massengale,
three sons and two married daughters. The home is at 537 Lee avenue, Webster Groves. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m.
Thursday from a chapel at 6175
Delmar boulevard to Bellefontaine Cemetery.

MEXICAN REBEL GENERAL IS

Mayotte, Leading Revolutionist,
Is Captured With His Troops

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, May 12.—Gen.

Mayotte began his military career when Carranza revolted against Victoriano Huerta in 1913.
He distinguished himself at the head of his cavalry against the bandit Villa. Afterward he became a strong supporter of Gen. Obre-gon, when the latter rose against Carranza. After the outbreak of the present rebellion he was commissioned to fight the rebels in the states of Oaxaca and Puebla, but went over to the enemy with the strong military elements placed under his command.

According to the report from Gen. Guajardo, Mayotte and his troops were discovered Sunday at Altata, a small town on the Guerro-Oaxaca border. After brisk fighting, lasting several hours, the rebels surrendered because of the failure of their ammunition. The War Department is awaiting further details.

INDIANA KLAN IS INDEPENDENT
State Body Moves to Free Itself From Atlanta Rule.
By the Associated Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, May 12.—Resolutions providing for self-determination of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana and placing control of the order in the State in the hands of leaders selected by Indiana klansmen, were adopted last night at a meeting of representatives of the organization, called by David C. Stephenson, known as "the old man."

Stephenson, who was elected grand dragon of the organization at the meeting, said the program adopted did not constitute secession from the organization headed by Dr. H. W. Evans of Atlanta, Ga., but was a move to bring about freedom from domination from Atlanta headquarters. A meeting will be held later for the purpose of perfecting the Indiana organization, he said.

WIFE SAYS SHE FOUND 'SOUR GRAPES' NOTES

Makes Countercharge Against Realty Man Who Brought Alienation Suit.

A letter signed "Sour Grapes," expressing the shame of a self-styled "old maid," who has permitted a married man to kiss her, and a note signed "E. R. S." both mailed last October at Salem, Ore., were found by Mrs. Justin Brennan in the pockets of her husband's traveling clothes, she avers, and will be used as evidence in her divorce suit.

She made the letters public today in what she termed retaliation for Brennan's action yesterday in filing suit for $20,000 damages for alienation of affections against a mutual friend, E. W. Lore of 2723 Washington boulevard, a railroad man.

The first letter, addressed to "Mr. Justin Brennan," at his real estate office in the Wainwright Building, was as follows:

"Dear friend—I am glad to hear that you arrived in St. Louis O. K. You made quite a trip and no doubt call yourself a wise old owl. God, but I wish I could take a journey. I love to travel, but I guess there's no use fretting over having an unlucky star."

Regrets Being Kissed.
"I bet your wife is glad to see you back. I pity her and feel like someone ought to shoot me for having done what I did. Am glad that at last both of us are safe, and hope you will make up to her now for what you did."

"Whenever I think of it I hate myself for ever having spoken to you, and you know ever having begged me to kiss you. I tell you one thing and that is this: That I am going to try to forget you, which is easy enough, but the stinging part of it will be twice as hard, in fact will always be a bad memory."

"You are the only person that I have ever kissed without having a right to. I don't see yet how I did happen to fail."

Wants Him to Write Soon.
"Am turning over a new leaf. I am so disgusted with myself for having acted so unjudiciously. I shall stop going with men. I have always said I would never marry and I guess old maids shouldn't do—should not have done—such a thing as being kissed."

"SOUR GRAPES."
The second letter, merely a note, asked him to write soon and was signed "As ever—E. R. S."

The Brennans were married in 1914 and separated last October. She alleged in her petition for divorce that she was subjected to indignities. In his counter action yesterday, he asserted that during his absence on a business trip in the West last fall Mrs. Brennan was frequently seen with Lore and permitted him to drive her automobile.

Mrs. Brennan, with their two children, resides in the West End. Her attorney, Frank J. Quinn, who gave out the letters, declined to make public her address. Lore could not be reached for a statement.

CONDUCTORS OF HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN SUE FOR $3000
Five Men Allege Sum Is Due Them as Balance of Their Fee.

Suit for $3000, the balance alleged to be due for conducting the recent campaign for money for the St. Louis Maternity Hospital, 4818 Washington boulevard, was filed today. The plaintiffs are Charles S. Ward, Frank H. Wells, Christian H. Dreshman, Olaf Gates and Lyman L. Pierce.

The suit declares the partners were engaged last October to conduct the financial campaign from Jan. 1 to Feb. 11, for which they were to be paid $7500, but that only $4500 was paid them. Demand was made for the balance. It is stated, but without result.

Mrs. Benedict Carlton of 4484 Westminster place, president of the hospital, could not be reached for a statement. The hospital wanted to raise $300,000 in the campaign in order to take advantage of a gift of $450,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation for experimental purposes, conditional upon the raising of $300,000 by the hospital. The campaign ended with $277,000 obtained, but the offer of the Rockefeller gift has not been withdrawn.

PARIS TO BE MORE SEVERE IN BOND FORFEITURE CASES
Federal Judge Inaugurates New Policy When Five Defendants Fail to Appear.

The established practice in Federal Judge Paris Court, when a defendant fails to appear on his bond, has been for the Judge to order a forfeiture, and then if the bondsman appears in a day or two with his client and his sponges the bond is set aside and a new bond accepted for twice the amount of the defaulted one, the bondsman to pay the court costs of forfeiture.

But this plan has proved inadequate, and today with 12 defendants scheduled to appear and 3 of them absent, Judge Paris inaugurated a more severe rule.

In two Volstead law cases, where bonds were $1000 each, he ordered forfeiture and increased the bonds to $2000 each. In two narcotics cases, with bonds of $1000 each, and a third with a bond of $200, he ordered forfeiture and increased the bonds to $2000. Further he indicated that unless the defendants were produced promptly, the bondsman may face difficulty in getting the forfeitures set aside.

Is Springtime Your Backache Time?

DOES Spring find you all worn out—miserable with daily backache—tortured with sharp pains? Are you dull, tired and spiritless? Nerves "all unstrung"? Do you wonder why Springtime is such a happy time for others, yet finds you so tired, weak and all played-out?

"Use Doan's," Say These St. Louis Folks:

I felt awfully sore through my limbs, and when I stooped I had catches in the small of my back. My kidneys acted irregularly and my rest at night was broken. I used Doan's Pills. They relieved me of the trouble and strengthened my back and kidneys."

MRS. M. RAUTERT, 27th Theodora av., says: "I had backache so bad I was in constant misery and the pain ran all through my body. Headaches and dizziness caused me no end of annoyance. I knew my kidneys were the cause, for they acted so irregularly. Doan's Pills were recommended and they did me of the trouble. Doan's freed me from the aches and pains and my kidneys were strengthened and regulated."

ARGUMENTS HEARD ON OIL FILLING STATION PERMIT

Judge Frey Refuses Temporary Order Against City and Delays
Final Action Until May 21.

Suit by the Lubrite Refineries to enjoin the city from revoking a permit for building an oil filling station at the southwest corner of McPherson and Newstead avenues came up for a hearing before Circuit Judge Frey today, but final action was delayed until May 21.
The Court refused, however, to is-

sume a temporary restraining order.
Residents of McPherson, Maryland and Newstead avenues, as has been told, contend an oil station
would be an unnecessary nuisance
in that neighborhood and success-
ed in having the Board of Public Service revoke the permit, after they called attention to the fact that the McKelvey Construction Co., headed by James G. McKelvey,
a son of Director of Public Safety McKelvey, has the contract for the building, for which the director issued a permit.
Eugene McQuillin and W. Scott Hancock, attorneys, intervened today in behalf of the residents in the suit against the city, and argued that the oil station would be a nuisance and as such should be prohibited. Thomas H. Cobbs, attorney for the oil company, contended the permit could not be revoked and the only recourse for the city and residents is to seek an injunction in court in the event the station proves to be a nuisance.

Assistant City Counselor Bader appeared for the city and argued the Board of Public Service could not be enjoined from revoking the permit when it had already done so.
Cobbs replied that the board had only recommended the permit be revoked.

It's Hardly Worth Troubling About Now

In another five or ten years perhaps, you think, you will have enough to make a will a necessity;
enough to make it interesting to
a trust company to act as your executor and trustee. "It's hardly worth troubling about now,"
you may say.

Maybe it isn't—to you. Perhaps,
if you are here ten years from now, you would make a different will than the one you would make today. But the will you might make today would be all-important to those you leave, if tomorrow were too late to make another
one. Putting it off means juggling with the future welfare of those you love best.

Make your will now. If, in five or ten years, your affairs have prospered as you hoped, bring it up to date, then. But whether now or then, appoint as your executor and trustee, the St. Louis Union Trust Company, whose experience, training, resources and responsibility will be ready when they are most needed, to carry out the provisions of your will,

to protect and, if possible, to increase the estate you are able to leave.

You are not taking chances by delaying in drawing up your will—you are making your family take the chance. One of our officers will gladly explain how the St.
Louis Union Trust Company can aid you in conserving your family's interests. Ask him for the booklet, "Safeguarding Your Family's Future."

4 CHEROKEES HELD FOR SLAYING GIRL, 9

Fourth Member of Gang, Said to Be Actual Killer, Caught
by Posse.

By the Associated Press.
PRYOR, Ok., May 13.—Stop Cochran, Cherokee Indian, alleged to have attacked and killed 9-year-old Ina Thompson in the Spavinaw Hills near Salina Saturday night,
was captured by a posse of officers and citizens in his cabin in the woods early today and lodged in jail here.

Cochran was the fourth man arrested in connection with the killing and officers said they believed everyone who had knowledge of the crime was in custody. Cochran was asleep when the posse closed down on his home, and was taken without a fight.

JAY, Ok., May 13.—Three other Cherokee Indians are under arrest
for the slaying of the girl. Stop Cochran was named by Ella Stick,
according to officers, as the one who assaulted the girl and then killed
her. Stick is in jail here.

Stick, according to Deputy Sheriff E. C. Moore, confessed that he and High Chicken and Charlie Tagg added in disposing of the girl's body. Chicken is in jail at Pryor, and Tagg at Salina.

Threats of violence were rife
here and at Pryor. The jail in which Stick is confined, is heavily guarded.

Ina disappeared Saturday night.
She had gone out from the home of her grandfather, Rod Thompson, to drive cows in from pasture. An Indian picnic was being held near the Thompson farm and, according to officers, many of the Indians were intoxicated.

BEAR BITES CARNIVAL MAN

"Teddy" Gets Mad When He Fails
to Receive Daily Apple.

John Kruger, operator of a merry-go-round, forgot the bit of fruit it had become his custom to give "Teddy," the performing bear
at a carnival playing at 4100 South Broadway, when he made his daily
visit to the animal tent yesterday,
and as a result Kruger is in City Hospital with a badly bitten leg.

At the hospital Kruger said he had become chummy with "Teddy,"
while the carnival was in winter quarters, and daily gave the animal
a bite of apple or other fruit pleasing to a bear's palate. Yesterday evening Kruger forgot the apple
and, when he continued to stand near "Teddy" without making the usual offering of friendship, the bear suddenly leaped on him and bit his leg. It was necessary to call the bear's trainer before he could be induced to release Kruger's leg.

SAYS HE CAN PREDICT QUAKE 15 MINUTES BEFORE IT OCCURS

Italian Seismologist Patents Novel Apparatus—Declares It Will Prevent Death Toll.

By the Associated Press.
SPEZIA, Italy, May 13.—Earthquakes need no longer cause loss of life, according to Prof. Caselli, seismologist, who claims to have constructed an apparatus, already patented, whereby earthquakes are announced at least 15 minutes before they occur. The scientist also claims to be able with very slight possibility of error, to locate beforehand the centers of telluric phenomena, their intensity and the situation of their most intense manifestations.

Signor Caselli's telluric prophecies for last March, which were deposited with a notary here some time in advance of the expected disturbances, were confirmed by subsequent events. His studies of the recent earthquake at Abruzzi,
he declares, convinced him that telluric phenomena in their electro-magnetic manifestations, unmistakably influence animals before the seismic movement begins.
Prof. Caselli is inclined to believe the theory which he says was known to the ancients, that great seismic movements may be produced by electro-magnetic forces developed by the stars of our planetary system, during the periods of their greatest proximity to the earth.

MO-PAC. DIRECTORS ELECTED

All directors of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Co. were re-elected at the annual stockholders' meeting at the Railway Exchange Building today, and two additional directors were chosen to fill vacancies. Those added to the board are J. E. Davey and H. Hobart Forter, both of New York City.
Re-election of B. F. Bush as a director today is of interest in railroad circles because of reports which have persisted recently that he would not continue as chairman of the board after the annual meeting. The directors will meet in New York May 29 to elect officers.

Fight on Bobbed Hair Continues.
By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., May 13.—Prediction that bobbed hair will be passed in another year was made by leaders of the Ohio Hairdressers' Association, at the annual demonstration here last night. When the knell is finally sounded, the "girls" will find the hairdressers ready to make the transformation from short locks to downy tresses instantly and satisfactorily, they said. A few strands of extra hair placed over the loose ends will do the trick.

The Human Element

OF ALL the elements that go to make up a manufacturing concern the greatest of all is men.

In an efficiently managed organization,
fewer men work less hard, receive higher wages and deliver a cheaper product. The invention of many of the shoe machines
which have been credited to this organization was due in a large degree to the fact that every effort is made to produce the working conditions and opportunities that enable a man to give his ideas a fair showing and a practical test.

At the factories of this corporation at Beverly there exists a feeling of harmony
and contentment that is often pointed out as a shining example of ideal conditions between employers and employees. Conditions that deaden the intellect, that weaken the body, that rob men of hope have been eliminated. Conditions that encourage physical and mental growth,
that stimulate ambition, that fill workers with belief in a still finer future have been introduced.

Men give their best under those conditions,
the industry and consumers profit.

PITTSBURG CAR STRIKE ENDS

Workers Accept Offer of Company to Pay Half for One Uniform.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 12.—Street car service was resumed here last night after suspension since Friday midnight, when 3200 motormen and conductors of the Pittsburgh Railway Co. went on strike after negotiations to adjust wage demands failed.

The strike was ended when the men voted to accept a proposal for a two-year contract at the present maximum pay of 87 cents an hour, with a provision that the company was to pay half of the cost of one uniform each year for the men.

SENATE URGES FREIGHT CUT TO AID FARMERS

I. C. C. Directed to Immediately Adjust Rates to Relieve Depression.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Sponsored by the farm bloc, a joint resolution, quickly adopted by the Senate, directs the Interstate Commerce Commission to adjust freight rates to relieve depression in any basic industry and particularly agriculture. It was adopted yesterday with virtually no debate, Senator King (Dem.), Utah, alone questioning the wisdom of the policy.

Farm relief legislation is now an outstanding issue in Congress, with the farm bloc standing against an adjournment until some measure is enacted to aid agriculture.

The first fight will be made on the McNary-Haugen bill, which will come to a test soon in the House. If this measure fails, the bloc is prepared to champion the Norris-Sinclair bill, while the Curtis-Aswell bill is in the offing and may receive attention, although it has not been reported by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Proposed By Democrat.

The rate adjusting resolution was introduced by Senator Smith (Dem.), South Carolina, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee, and was supported by Senator Cummins (Rep.), Iowa, who explained the purpose of the resolution was to give the support of Congress to the Interstate Commerce Commission to use authority now vested in it.

Spokesmen for the farm bloc said that the resolution would mark a great step forward in aiding the farmer in that quick, cheap transportation would be affected for farm products.

The resolution declares that "agriculture is the basic industry of this country" and that it is the policy of Congress to promote, encourage and foster that industry, and especially in rate-making during the existing depression in agriculture.

Immediate Action Urged.

It directs the Interstate Commerce Commission to effect without delay "such lawful changes in the rate structure of the country as will promote the freedom of movement by common carriers of the products of agriculture, including livestock, at the lowest possible lawful rate compatible with the maintenance of adequate transportation service."

Senator Capper (Rep.) Kansas, a farm bloc spokesman, in a statement said he would oppose adjournment of Congress until a "real effort has been made to help the farmers."

CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRY INTO TELEPHONE RATES PROPOSED

New York Representative Charges Service Throughout Country Is Controlled by American T. and T. Co.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Congressional investigation of telephone rates and service throughout the United States and of the organization of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and its relations with other corporations, was proposed today by Representative O'Connor (Dem.), New York.

In a resolution Representative O'Connor asked that a special House committee of seven members be named to conduct the inquiry.

Recalling that the New York Telephone Co. had recently increased rates in New York City 10 per cent, O'Connor declared that the telephone service throughout the country is "substantially controlled by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., operating through subsidiary companies in different localities."

"The existence of such subsidiaries," the resolution continued, "tends to establish a fictitious cost of operation in certain localities, casting the burden on those localities of contributing to the huge profits of the parent company out of all proportion to the service rendered."

JESSE JAMES COMMITTED TO HOSPITAL AFTER AUTO CRASH

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., May 13.—Jesse James, Kansas City lawyer and son of the notorious bandit, who was disarmed by friends here early Monday after a motor car accident on the new highway, was committed to the custody of three friends here late yesterday, with the understanding they were to send him to a hospital for treatment.

The commitment was ordered at an informal hearing in Dr. Ernest Lowry's office. James had come here to explain possession of the shotgun and two large revolvers taken from him. He was to appear in Police Court, but Raymond W. Cummins, Clay County prosecutor, summoned the Police Judge for a private hearing. No charges were filed against any members of the party arrested with James.

A car driven by James, collided with another auto midnight Saturday, west of here. William Payne, Night Marshal, said James and his companions told him they were paroling the road for bandits.

Favorable Report on Rail Measure.

LIKE BUILDING SYSTEM FOR CITY OF 100,000

A comprehension of the work involved in consolidating the Bell and Kinloch telephone systems may be arrived at by imagining what would happen if explorers discovered a city of 100,000 population which—having been isolated from civilization—was anxious to have telephone service in the quickest possible time.

Consider the work this would call for: the choosing of locations for central offices, the drafting of office areas, the construction of overhead and subterranean lines, the installations of telephone instruments.

Although the St. Louis merger is, in a sense, a reconstruction job it needs as many hours and as much material as the building of a new telephone system for a city of 100,000.

"BUSY SIGNALS"

Have your friends ever told you that your telephone was reported busy at a time when you knew it was not in use? There are three ways in which this could occur: if your receiver were off the hook, if two operators were attempting to get your line at the same time or through equipment trouble resulting from a storm or heavy rain.

Y. M. C. A. FUND

May 13 to May 23 are the dates set for the Y. M. C. A. $3,000,000 development fund campaign.

It is a campaign of great importance to the young men and boys of St. Louis and one in which every citizen should be interested.

A large force of canvassers are at work over the city and speakers are being provided to address clubs and industrial organizations.

"PARKVIEW"

Section of the New Board Before It Was Put In Use.

Early this month a new telephone office began operating in the West End district of St. Louis. It is known as "Parkview" and serves the same area as Cabany, having quarters on the top floor of the Cabany building.

As the Cabany switchboard was overloaded, Parkview took 2100 Cabany lines as a nucleus for its service. Generally speaking all Cabany numbers from 7000 upward were transferred. New lines in the Cabany district will also be assigned to Parkview.

MOVING DAYS

The above graph shows the number of telephone moves in St. Louis.

Twenty five per cent of the year's moving in St. Louis is done in the two months of May and October.

During these "peak" moving months which bring about abnormal additions to the work of the installation forces, plant work is often abnormally increased by line troubles due to heavy rains.

It enables the Company to give you quicker service on your move when you notify the telephone office well in advance of the date you have set.

SPORT DOPE

Wray Brown is up and at 'em again ready to defend some of his many clay court titles. Brown has won such tennis tournaments as St. Louis, Central States, Missouri Valley and Interstate.

He is a Washington University graduate, and since last November has been in the local commercial office of the Bell Company.

The Bell Telephone System connects over 70,000 places in the United States.

41 Years' Service

MISS FRANCES OVERBECK

Miss Frances Overbeck joined the telephone company in St. Louis when it had but three central offices and barely two thousand subscribers. For many years she was superintendent of the Operators' Training School at Vandeventer and Olive streets where she prepared hundreds of operators for their work of providing our telephone service at the St. Louis switchboards.

MERGER PROGRESS

Since the actual work of consolidating the Bell and Kinloch systems began in November, progress has been rapid. Kinloch toll (Long Distance), Delmar, Valley Park, St. Charles, Webster, Laclede, Riverside, Ferguson, Clayton, Kirkwood and Wabash in Overland Park have all been unified. Unification of St. Clair is under way.

In addition, most of the preparatory work has been done for the rest of the city, new cables being laid to connect up Bell with Kinloch offices and hundreds of switchboard units being installed in the various central offices.

Inside Work

Some offices are only awaiting the rearrangement of lines and final testing; others need switchboard sections and inside work, such as the distribution of lines and connection of switchboard cables.

This inside work is the work that is going on now. Visible results of the merger seem few but they will become much more evident during the early summer months as today's vast network of cable is put in operation.

LARGE INCREASE IN NUMBER OF CALLS

The addition of almost 600 operators, 155,000 more calls per day. An addition to yearly traffic expense of about $800,000.

That's what the merger and natural telephone growth mean to the operating forces in St. Louis.

In Midsummer, when the merger is completed about 2675 operators will be at the switchboards handling telephone traffic of St. Louis. There were but 2100 at all Bell and Kinloch offices in March, 1923, when the merger began.

The average number of daily calls per telephone will also be larger. According to our best estimates there will be an increase of about 135,000 calls daily over the combined total of Bell and Kinloch calls before the merger.

Added Calling List

This is easy to understand when you remember that Bell subscribers will be able to talk to 30,000 Kinloch telephones with which they had no connection before, and former Kinloch subscribers will add to their possible calling list 135,000 Bell telephones with which their telephone was not formerly connected.

There will also be a large increase in the number of calls made by subscribers for telephones not served by their own central office. Such calls, known as trunked calls must be transferred to an operator in the other central office. In other words a double operation is necessary.

In meeting these greater telephone needs about $800,000 yearly will be added to traffic expense in St. Louis.

EARLY BROADCASTING

This type of telephone was in use in 1877.

St. Louis was the scene of one of the earliest experiments in broadcasting entertainment. On November 22, 1877, long before radio was considered a possibility, a concert of vocal and instrumental numbers was broadcast over Bell telephone instruments to more than one hundred listeners.

The late Julius C. Birge, one of the first telephone subscribers in this city was responsible for the experiment. The idea that such a concert was possible came to him one day when he was talking over his private line to the Semple and Birge Foundry. At the other end of the line he heard a boy playing a harmonica.

Signal Success

He suggested a broadcast concert to George F. Durant, first Bell Manager in St. Louis. Mr. Durant was interested and supplied 41 telephones which were connected up at various points, two being in the home of General William T. Sherman, twelve in the home of Mr. E. H. Semple, thirteen in Mr. Birge's home, two in the offices of the People's Conveyance Co., and the rest in the two offices of the American District Telegraph Company. This first concert was a signal success.

Mr. Birge in telling of the affair commented on the amazement of the guests who listened in at his home. "Even Governor E. O. Stanard," he said, "a man in touch with all current events, was astonished that what I promised in the way of entertainment came to pass. He said he had hesitated about coming in the belief that the telephone was simply some noise-making instrument."

POINCARÉ TO QU
BRIAND SEEM
FOR THEHerriot Also Mentioned
ing of Poincaré and Regarded as I

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, May 12.—Premier Poincaré and his recently reorganized ministry will step from power June 4. The Premier interpreted the majority given to the parties of the Left in Sunday's parliamentary elections as a repudiation of his Government and forthwith decided to resign. His decision was ratified at the Council of Ministers held today in the Palace of the Elisee under the chairmanship of President Millerand.

The new Chamber of Deputies will meet June 4. It will elect its president, officials and secretaries and then adjourn until the 4th, when the new president will deliver the opening address. The first official business transacted will be the declaration of Poincaré's resignation. June 4 was the earliest constitutional date the Government could have chosen to resign.

The Cabinet deliberated an hour and a quarter on the question whether it would be possible to resign immediately. It was finally decided it would not be according to precedent to open a ministerial crisis before the new chamber had even assembled and before the various groups had organized and positions had been taken with reference to a governmental combination. The Ministers all agreed, however, that they could in the meantime only undertake to care for current problems in their departments, leaving all problems involving questions of policy for their successors.

Favor the Dawes Plan.
Today's action of the Cabinet is regarded as making the meeting which was to occur between Poincaré and MacDonald on May 13 impossible. The leaders of the majority which will make up the eventual Government bloc in the Chamber are understood all to favor the adoption of the Dawes reparation plan. As there is more than the mere details of the execution of this plan to be discussed between the French and British Premiers, Poincaré's resignation considered there was no longer the necessary authority in his hands to conduct the negotiations.

Discussion in radical and Socialist circles as to the formation of the new Government indicates that the leaders of the coalition bloc of the Left will insist upon the Socialists receiving their full share of the honors. Already a strong movement is on foot in favor of a Socialist as president of the Chamber. This project, if pursued up to the opening of the Chamber's session, seems likely to bring on the first clash between the new majority and opposition. In view of the small margin the radicals and radical Socialists can muster without help of the more moderate elements, some doubt is entertained as to whether a Socialist can be elected to this post, even if the radicals were willing to support him.

Briand Most Likely Of.
Former Premier Briand remains the most talked-of probability for the premiership. Deputy Herriot also is mentioned, but Briand is regarded in most quarters as far more likely to find a working majority to support the new Government in a Chamber almost evenly balanced between the opposing groups.

The official result is: Conservatives, 28; Republicans of the Bloc National, 117; Republicans of the Left, 12; Democrats of the Left, 78; Radicals and Radical Socialists, 149; Republican Socialists, 35; Socialists, 162; Communists, 23. Total, 449. In addition there remain 19 seats from the colonies, for which a second ballot is necessary, and one seat yet in doubt, making up the total of 544.

Demand for New President.
Quotidian, which now becomes the official organ of the new Left bloc majority, publishes a manifesto today demanding the presidency of the Chamber for a Socialist and the presidency of the republic for a Republican Socialist, reiterating its call for President Millerand's resignation.

The program outlined by Quotidian includes: "Equitable taxation, reduction of military service, one single school (meaning abolition of the parochial schools and insistence upon attendance at the national public schools), cheaper justice, accord among nations and justice and peace."

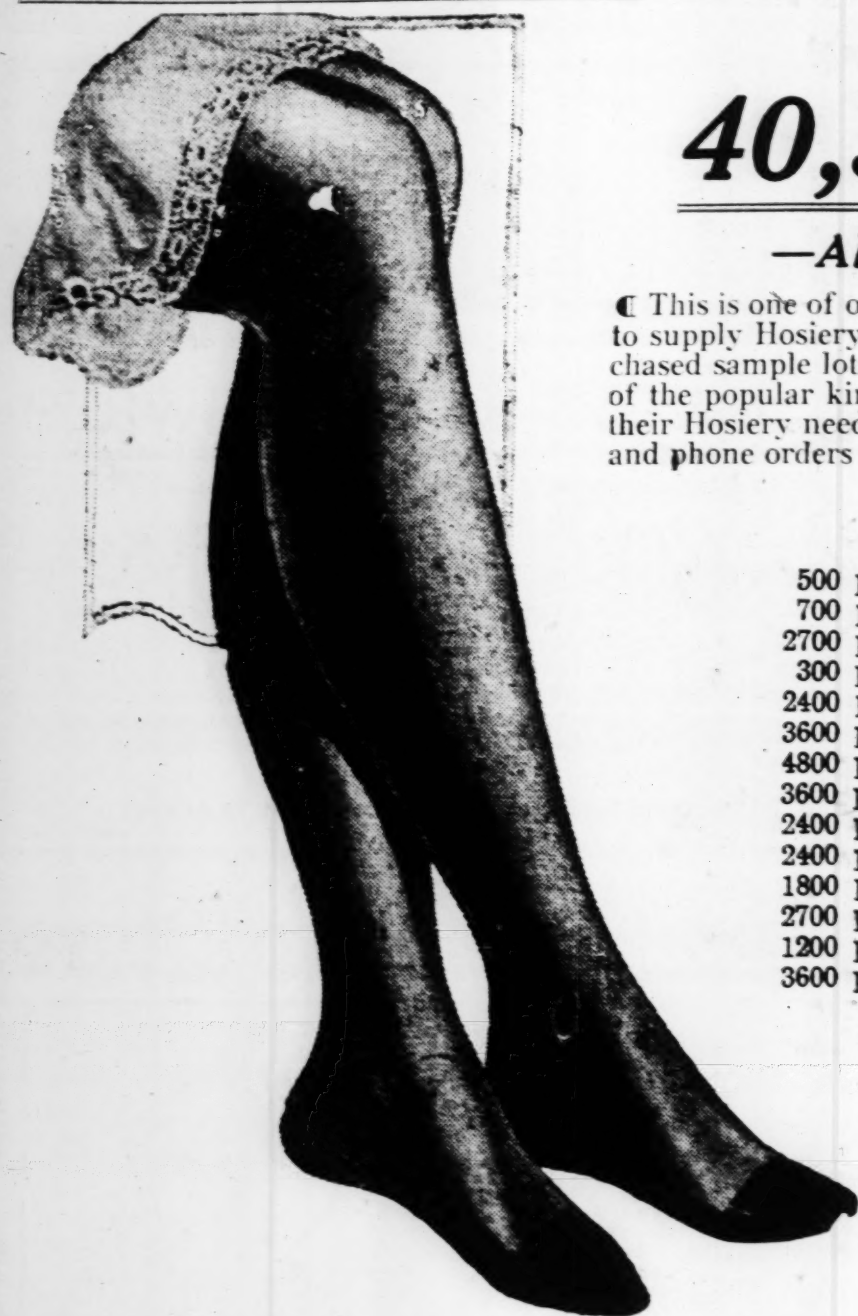

"Poincaré's last facts resigned from now on," the paper continues, "and can only consider himself as charged with expediting current business until June 1. Millerand has justly declared the Bloc National's policy his policy, and immoderately proclaimed that he would not accept the bloc's defeat. He is leader, let him go."

"The Republic Socialists, who have gained striking success and count among them several of the most remarkable men in Parliament and the country, will have no trouble in finding an alternative."

POINCARÉ TO QUIT JUNE 4; BRIAND SEEMS TO LEAD FOR THE PREMIERSHIP

Herriot Also Mentioned as Successor—Meeting of Poincaré and MacDonald Now Regarded as Improbable.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, May 13.—Premier Poincaré and his recently reorganized ministry will step down from power June 4. The Premier interpreted the majority given to the parties of the Left in Sunday's parliamentary elections as a repudiation of his Government and forthwith decided to resign. His decision was ratified at the Council of Ministers held today in the Palace of the Elisee under the chairmanship of President Millerand.

The new Chamber of Deputies will meet June 2, elect its president, officials and secretaries and then adjourn until the 4th, when the new president will deliver the opening address. The first official business of the new Chamber will be to elect a President of the Chamber. Poincaré reads his declaration of resignation. June 4 was the earliest constitutional date the Government could have chosen to resign.

It was finally decided it would not be according to precedent to open a ministerial crisis before the new Chamber had even assembled and before the various groups had organized and positions had been taken with reference to a governmental combination. Today's action of the Cabinet is regarded as making the meeting which was to occur between Premier Poincaré and MacDonald on May 13 impossible. The leaders of the majority which will make up the eventual Government bloc in the Chamber are understood all to favor the application of the Dawes plan. As there is more than the mere details of the execution of this plan to be discussed between the French and British Premiers, Premier Poincaré has indicated there was no longer the necessary authority in his hands to conduct the negotiations.

Discussion in radical and Socialist circles as to the feasibility of the new Government indicates that the leaders of the coalition bloc of the Left will insist upon the Socialists receiving their full share of the honors. The official result is: Conservatives, 20; Republicans of the Bloc National, 117; Republicans of the Left, 52; Democrats of the Left, 18; Radicals and Radical Socialists, 138; Republican Socialists, 35; Socialists, 102; Communists, 29. "The Republican Socialists, who have gained striking success and are among the most remarkable men in Parliament and the country, will have trouble in finding an illustrious candidate for the first magistracy. "Encourage German Democracy." Former Premier Painlevé, discussing Sunday's elections, as given in Excelsior today, says:

"In my opinion it is a political and psychological mistake to proclaim because there are a few boches in Germany that all in Germany are boches and that democratic sentiment is banished from the Reich. We must encourage that sentiment among those democrats who are trying, not without danger, to snatch the country from dangerous dreams of revenge. "The allies, including America, unanimously proclaimed a plan as a most reasonable, just and practicable basis for reparation. The nations which rejected that possibility of just settlement would incur the heaviest responsibility in the eyes of universal opinion. We do not intend that nation to be France."

The sweeping victory of the radicals will entirely change the chamber. Some of the most picturesque figures and some of the most ardent debaters disappear in Leon Daudet, leader of the Royalists; Georges Mandel, leader of the Clemenceaux; André Tardieu, fervent critic of recent governments; André Lefevre, former War Minister, and one of the most earnest advocates of military preparation by France; and Emmanuel Brousse, who earned the title "watchdog of the treasury" by his unflinching keenness in detecting unjustified appropriations in the budget.

Satisfaction Over Poincaré's Defeat Felt in London.

Copyright, 1924, by the Press and Political Publishing Co., the New York Times and the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, May 13.—The overthrow of Premier Poincaré came as a stunning surprise to London. There is a feeling of deep satisfaction over the French Premier's defeat. It has loosened tongues hitherto silent and it is admitted now the conversation between Premier MacDonald and Premier Theunis of Belgium were a complete failure. Until now there was almost no hope of being able to get the reparation experts' scheme into operation. M. Poincaré's reservations and demands were such that the British felt it impossible to meet them.

But overnight pessimism has given way to optimism. With the French in power in France, Franco-British accommodation toward a real reparation settlement is thought probable.

Important Diplomatic Results.

Three important diplomatic results, the British believe, will result from the French landslide. First, the new French Government will accept the Dawes report, only holding out for the minimum reparation figure for France which M. Poincaré had demanded, but ending trouble about sanctions and evacuation of the Ruhr.

Second, France, it is assumed, will adopt a League of Nations policy in co-operation with Great Britain.

Third, the French Left is expected to join England in recognizing and entering into direct negotiations with Moscow. The Daily Herald, organ of the Labor party, welcomes the Left in France most cordially as almost comrades who are "very much nearer to us and will, we believe, draw nearer yet." The editorial emphasizes British Labor's interpretation of the elections as a move toward socialism in France. They assume the result was largely influenced by the failure of the French in domestic policies. It is thought, the French Left and British Labor will be in sympathy and can help each other.

FRENCH ELECTION RESULT PLEASES WASHINGTON

Administration Said to Have Waited Patiently for Defeat of Poincaré Nationalistic Regime.

ADVANCE IN THE WORLD SITUATION

Evacuation of Ruhr Considered Likely Together With Acceptance of Dawes-Young Expert Report.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
A Special Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1924.)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—For more than a year Washington has waited patiently for just what has happened in France in the last 24 hours—a change from the uncompromising nationalism of Raymond Poincaré to the flexibility of a new administration unembarrassed by the commitments of its predecessors.

The evacuation of the Ruhr, long advocated by the United States Government, and now the big stumbling block to the effective operation of the Dawes-Young reparation settlement, may be agreed to by the new administration in France as a means of getting funds immediately. The radicalism came into power in the French elections on promises to obtain the money needed to reconstruct the remainder of the devastated regions. An international loan, together with the application of the Dawes-Young plan, would give France a new financial start not only raising the value of the wrecked financial system but also reducing the necessity of further borrowings inside the country and increases in the internal debt.

It was inevitable a year ago that the Poincaré administration would be wrecked on financial issues. Some lesser bond-issue projects have been completed and one bigger job, the conversion of River des Peres into a closed sewer is under way. Union Market will be erected under a $1,250,000 bond issue item for markets, of which $1,000,000 will be spent on this structure and the remainder on outlying markets.

However, this building will cost about $1,250,000, the $350,000 having been provided in this year's budget from municipal revenue to pay for the garage portion. There had been opposition to the garage feature in the Citizens' Supervisory Bond Issue Committee. The building, made of brick and terra cotta, will front 270 feet on Morgan and Lucas and 195 feet on Sixth and Broadway. The market will be on the main floor, the area of which will be more than one acre. High arched windows will provide light. The counters will be of white enameled brick, marble and plate glass, built to make it as easy as possible to keep the place clean. There will be ramps from the street to the basement for delivery of supplies, and ordinary and cold storage and work rooms, together with a refrigerating plant, will occupy the basement. The refrigerating system will supply the storage rooms and the counters.

The primary object of the garage is to enable market customers to park their cars. Nearly 700 machines will be accommodated on the three floors, but officials estimate that on busy days 7000 market cars may be handled, with frequent "turnover." Machines will go up and down on ramps and elevators to the market will carry passengers.

Wrecking of the old market has started. It is hoped to have the new structure open within a year, but the contract has not been let. The plans were drawn in the president's department of the Board of Public Service.

HAWES' GAME REFUGE BILL GETS FAVORABLE HOUSE REPORT

Measure Provides $1,500,000 for Conservation of Fish and Game in Upper Mississippi.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The House Agriculture Committee yesterday reported favorably on the upper Mississippi game and fish refuge bill introduced by Representative Harry B. Hawes of St. Louis, and sponsored by the Isaac Walton League of America. On recommendation of the War Department the committee wrote into the bill that the project shall not interfere with navigation.

The refuge will be under the joint jurisdiction of the Secretaries of Agriculture and Commerce. The bill authorizes the expenditure of $1,500,000, but this will not be necessary until Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois and Iowa have set aside certain lands and make appropriations.

Hawes estimates that the refuge will increase the natural hatcheries of game fish 300 per cent and will be of special benefit for the conservation of black bass now in danger of becoming extinct in the Mississippi River.

Architect's Drawing of New Union Market Building

Pictured here is the first structure of major importance to be built under the $87,372,500 bond issue. It is the new Union Market, with a public garage, which will replace an antiquated building at Broadway and Lucas avenue.

CITY READY TO BUILD NEW UNION MARKET

Structure to Contain Public Garage and Cost About $1,350,000.

The city is preparing to have built the first substantial municipal improvement under the $87,372,500 bond issue voted Feb. 9, 1923—the new Union Market, which will replace an antiquated structure dating from 1856 on the city block bounded by Broadway, Lucas avenue, Sixth and Morgan streets. In it will be a public garage.

Some lesser bond-issue projects have been completed and one bigger job, the conversion of River des Peres into a closed sewer is under way. Union Market will be erected under a $1,250,000 bond issue item for markets, of which $1,000,000 will be spent on this structure and the remainder on outlying markets.

DRY LAW BENEFICIAL AND BEING "BETTER ENFORCED," SAYS DR. ELIOT OF HARVARD

President Emeritus of University Declares Neither Republicans Nor Democrats Will Put Wet Plank in Platform.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Charles W. Eliot, president Emeritus of Harvard University, has taken issue with recent declarations of Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, to the effect that prohibition was a failure.

Dr. Eliot asserted that complete prohibition enforcement was in sight; that Dr. Butler's statements were unchallenged by the fact that the wet and dry parties were still in the streets; and that neither the Republican nor Democratic parties would dare to put a wet plank in their national platforms.

Dr. Eliot's views were set forth in a letter to Fred B. Smith of New York, chairman of the Committee of One Thousand for Law Enforcement. It was the first response to a circular the committee sent to 150 college presidents, after Dr. Butler in a speech before the Missouri Society denounced the Volstead law.

View of Educators.

"You tell me," wrote Dr. Eliot in the letter made public yesterday, "that the Citizens' Committee of One Thousand believes that if the statement made by President Nicholas Murray Butler goes unchallenged it will have three very bad effects: first, it will encourage people to violate the prohibition laws and other laws; secondly, it will dishearten the students of American universities in their efforts to enforce prohibition legislation on university premises; thirdly, it will announce to the whole world that American constitutional government has failed."

"In my opinion, President Butler's statement will have no such effects. It will not increase the number of 'wet' in the United States; it will dishearten no 'dry' students; and it has no tendency whatever to prove that American constitutional government has failed."

"You ask me for a 'concise statement of the attitude of our educators' towards the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. Of course, I have no authority to speak for our educators; but I am glad to have this opportunity to express three opinions, my own opinions, as follows:

"An overwhelming majority of the teachers and educators of our country believe in bringing up all children not to use alcohol in any form for the sake of their own health and of the public health, and also believe that the reasons for the abolition of alcoholism should be taught in all schools as part of the regular instruction in personal and community hygiene."

"The testimony now being given by manufacturers, physicians, nurses, and social workers as to the improvement of the condition of the population at large which has taken place since the eighteenth amendment was adopted is so potent that it will soon convince the great majority of the American people."

Butler a Traitor to His Party, Says Grange Head.

COLUMBUS, O., May 13.—President Butler of Columbia University is declared a "traitor" to his party and the best interests of the republic for urging the adoption of a wet plank in the Republican national platform, by L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange, in a statement issued by him. The statement follows:

"It is discouraging and disheartening to see the president of a great educational institution, who should give to young men the highest ideals in patriotism and citizenship, urging the 'party of Lincoln' to settle a moral issue on the plane of political expediency."

"President Butler has misled the mark in listing the states that the Republican party cannot carry without a wet plank. His conclusions are in error; he has absolutely forgotten the fact that if a wet plank goes into the Republican platform the party cannot carry a single agricultural state in the nation."

"The issues of the coming presidential campaign will be largely economic; the wet and dry question is settled forever. Dr. Butler or any other individual who tries to drag in an outside issue to blind the real issues of fundamental Americanism is a traitor to his party and the best interests of the republic."

CARPENTER SOCIALIST-LABOR CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY

Frank T. Johns for "Overthrow of Capitalist System" by "One Big Union" Plan.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Frank T. Johns, 35 years old, a carpenter of Portland, Ore., was nominated for the presidency at the national convention of the Socialist-Labor party yesterday. The party, represented by 40 delegates from 15 states, nominated Verne L. Reynolds, 38, of Baltimore, for the vice-presidency.

Resolutions condemning corruption in national affairs and expressing sorrow over the death of Premier Lenin of Russia, were adopted. It was voted to hold a ratification meeting of the party next Saturday night in Cooper Union.

Johns, the presidential nominee, is a graduate of the Spokane High School. He was a farmer near Roseburg, Ore., until 1913, when he became a mail carrier. During the war he was a carpenter in the Portland shipyards and has been following that trade ever since.

Explaining the position of his party on political questions, he said "the overthrow of the capitalist system" was the fundamental issue, adding:

"I believe in the use of the ballot, but if the will of the majority, who are workers, is not prevail, then let us apply force. By force I do not mean physical force, such as shooting or mob attacks, but rather the use of industrial pressure by means of one big union."

NEW POSTS FOR CONSULS IN THE NEWCASTLE CASE

Slater Assigned to Canada and Brooks to Duty at Belfast.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Following out the agreement reached between the Washington and London Governments through the settlement of the Newcastle consulate case, the State Department has assigned Vice Consul Russell M. Brooks to duty at Belfast and Consul Fred C. Slater to Fort William and Port Arthur, Canada.

Charged with British shipping interests and supported by a ping interest and supported by the British Foreign Office resulted in the cancellation of the exequatur of Consul Slater and the withdrawal of recognition of Consul Brooks. When the British Government recently disavowed these charges, it did so on the explicit understanding that the consular officers would be acceptable for reappointment to posts within British territory.

DEMOCRATS HOLD THEIR SEATS

Congressmen Win First Round in Republican Contest.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Two Democratic members of the House whose elections were contested—Representative Royal H. Weller of the Twenty-first New York district, and James R. Buckley of the Sixth Illinois district—yesterday won the first round of their fight to retain their seats. Committees which investigated charges of irregularities in connection with their election decided both were entitled to remain in the House.

Dismissing the contest filed by former Representative Martin C. Anagnos, Weller's Republican opponent in the 1922 election, a committee, headed by Representative Elliott, former Representative John J. Gorman, Republican, who opposed Buckley at the polls. The committee decided that Gorman had failed to comply with the law in the submission of evidence to bear out his charges.

OIL MEN TELL OF CAMPAIGN FUND FOR MAYFIELD

One Witness at Senatorial Inquiry Testifies Candidate "Thought Boys Owed Him Something."

COMMITTEE HEARS OF $750 CONTRIBUTIONS

Chief Collector of Fund Fails to Answer When His Name Is Called at Investigation.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 20-21 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—"Mr. Mayfield believed the boys owed him something."

This was the word that was passed out by a friend of Earle B. Mayfield, then Railroad Commissioner of Texas, to representatives of big companies whose financial help was sought by Mayfield's campaign for the United States Senate, according to testimony before the committee on Privileges and Elections, before which the Mayfield seat is being contested.

The committee yesterday ran up against an impediment that may check the efforts of attorneys for George E. B. Paddy, who is contesting Mayfield's election, to inquire into Ku Klux Klan activity in the campaign. The name of J. L. Hunter, commonly known as Lynn Hunter, was called and failed to elicit a response.

Hunter is the man who, it was asserted, was the chief collector of the Mayfield fund, but throughout the injunction proceedings in Texas, the Paddy people never were able to tag him with a subpoena.

The testimony yesterday centered about the efforts of Scott Woodward and Luther Nichols, attorneys for Paddy, to corner Mayfield's unreported campaign contributions and with attempts to obtain money from oil men.

$750 for Campaign Fund.

Tom Hunter, an oil operator, said that he had turned $750 over to Lynn Hunter, to be used in Mayfield's campaign. He said that Earle Mayfield and his cousin, Alphonse Mayfield, chairman of the Railroad Commission, had given him a permit to drill on a narrow strip of land, against the opposition of owners of the contiguous property. Hunter insisted there was nothing unusual or improper in the issuance of the permit.

This testimony was supplemented by the statement of T. R. Boone, that he appeared with Tom Hunter outside the hearing room of the Railroad Commission and that Mayfield had come out and asked Hunter where Boone stood in the senatorial race.

Hunter is said to have replied that "Boone would be all right by the time of election," whereupon, according to the witness, Mayfield said, "Tom was one of his largest contributors."

Boone was not sure if the amount of his contribution was mentioned, but the testimony was seized at once by the Mayfield lawyers as offsetting the testimony that Hunter had turned over $750. The amount was not reported by the senatorial candidate, and the contention of Woodward is that the Boone testimony shows that to comply with the Texas law it should have been.

In telling of the drilling permit Tom Hunter said that there had first been a hearing before the commission, after which Commissioner Gilmore had announced that he would be governed by the opinion of Haswell, one of the technical men for the commission. Gilmore thereupon had taken the case under advisement, whereupon Hunter testified he had gone to Allison Mayfield's sick bed and obtained the approval of the matter. With this in his pocket he went back and Earle B. Mayfield concurred.

Activities of Oil Men.

Hunter said he personally contributed $500 to the Mayfield fund and collected $250 additional from two friends. He said that when he saw Allison Mayfield he had not mentioned the Mayfield candidacy.

G. Clinton Wood, an oil producer of Wichita Falls, Tex., told of the activities of other oil men for Mayfield. Wood testified that there, C. Towns, counsel for the Humble Oil Co., had visited Wichita Falls in 1921.

"He came to my office," Wood testified, "and called in a bunch of my friends and said he wanted to talk about Earle Mayfield's candidacy. He said he had been a friend of the boys and the boys ought to help."

Among those who were said to have been called in were Walter Cline, an independent oil operator.

Not Ready for Municipal Ownership.

O F THE numerous cities of the United States only 28 have, according to the latest reports from Washington, municipal ownership of street railways, and most of these, too, are small cities. Now since such a small number of cities have municipal ownership, it does not seem wise for St. Louis, one of the largest cities in the United States, to undertake such a project until municipal ownership of railways has been proven not only feasible but also economical. Of course, the advocates of municipal ownership will point to Europe for striking examples of its success, but they must remember that Europe is quite different from America, as are also the people.

The city of Glasgow, Scotland, is always pointed out as a model for city ownership of railways. Not so long ago an official from this city, who was considered an expert and efficient man on municipal ownership, took a trip to this country, with a view of municipalizing our street car service. After spending some time in America, he went back to his country, his practical idea having become utopian. He said that conditions here would not warrant such a change in the majority of cases.

Conditions in St. Louis are at the present time wholly unfavorable to municipal ownership. Perhaps if that $13,000,000 bond issue had not been passed, municipal ownership might have a chance, but no sane people are going to put another $6 or $7 million dollars on their shoulders just to put another cog in an already crowded machine.

Heir Should Resign.

T HE POST-DISPATCH is to be congratulated as the only paper with backbone enough to comp out and request Heier's resignation. What kind of men have we on the board today, if they are satisfied to work with men of his caliber? If Heier, as he says, will resign, 10 citizens can help him to the decision by sending in a petition for same, and surely there are 10 times 10 waiting for the opportunity to rid our schools of such a he. Does Heier think any explanation he might make would have any bearing on the matter? L. C. NEW, Tappan.

St. Louis Tourist Camp.

S T. LOUIS, do you expect to get any tourist trade this season? If you do, get busy and make your tourist camp in Forest Park a fit place for humanity to live in. My husband and myself have traveled gypsy style quite a bit and St. Louis is pretty near at the bottom of the list of good camps, considering its size. We were told at ever so many camps along the road to shun the camp in St. Louis. When we asked why it was always the same old story. Mudhole in a rain and a sandhole in warm weather; no up-to-date accommodations. Some of you people that think your tourist camp is the best, I wish you would go on the road for one season and see some other camps. Give us a decent camp and we may stay longer to see more of the people and spend some of our money. TWO ROAD BUMS.

The Waste Paper Nuisance.

WE read a great deal about civic pride in the daily papers, about what residents of the city should, or should not, do, to keep the streets of the city clean. But we are approaching clean-up week, but what incentive is there for anyone to waste time and energy to clean up his place? Let a man spend three or four hours of his time cleaning up his front lawn, trimming the hedge, only to awaken the next morning to see his lawn littered with torn papers, the hedge stuck full of the same, and that all from the corner news stand, where unsalable papers are chucked into an open pasteboard cart instead of being put into the retainer the city provides for refuse. We will find torn Globe-Democrat, Post-Dispatch, Star and Times pink and green sheets in a merry dance down the street one day, and as the wind changes they come dancing back the next day. If any of the daily papers think that I am knocking, let them come out to Taylor and Delmar and have a look. A DAILY OBSERVER.

PINCHOT ON LAW ENFORCEMENT.

Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania launched an indictment of the Antislavery League in his speech at the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, when he charged the failure of the Volstead act and the lawlessness incident to it to the Federal enforcement service. He spoke of "the sordid betrayal of the eighteenth amendment" which has "corrupted our children, degraded their characters, destroyed their health, cost the lives of uncounted thousands, debauched our Government and shamed us before the whole world."

This is a terrible indictment, and, unfortunately, so far as the facts are concerned, tragically true. Gov. Pinchot, however, has misapplied the indictment. The responsibility rests primarily with the Antislavery League, the political leaders of which deliberately insisted upon the prohibition unit being kept out of the civil service and placed on the spoils list. They were urged to place the prohibition enforcement appointments on the merit system, but declined on the ground that members of Congress would be opposed to it and that insistence on that point would weaken the Volstead act in Congress.

It is a well-known fact that the Antislavery League has controlled the appointment of prohibition enforcement officers, from the highest to the lowest. The heads of the league in Washington and in the states have been consulted in all appointments. Their O. K. has been necessary to the selection of all officers and agents. They have insisted upon the appointment of extreme "drys." Of course, the spoils have gone to the Congressmen, but the selections have been the special privilege of Antislavery League heads.

The fact, therefore, that the prohibition enforcement agents are not on the civil service list, which is bewailed by Dr. Eliot and is charged with widespread and terrible evils and law violation by Gov. Pinchot, is due wholly to the Antislavery League. The prohibition enforcement unit and its various branches is the child and pet and protégé of the Antislavery League, whose leaders defend the officers and agents of the unit whenever they are attacked, and even when they are convicted of corruption and lawlessness.

Gov. Pinchot, however, and Dr. Eliot, who is wholly lacking in accurate information, see only the surface of the evil. Gov. Pinchot insists that it is the enforcement of the law that is at fault and does not comprehend that it is the law itself that causes these evils. He is blind to principle and to the lessons of history and experience which condemn the law as utterly wrong, un-American and inevitably doomed to failure, no matter what forces are brought into the field of enforcement. Gov. Pinchot assumes that every law could be enforced if only the proper enforcement agencies are employed. That is denied by all human experience in government. It is a maxim of law that no law can be enforced against a considerable weight of public opinion; or, as it has been put by Lord Parker, the eminent English jurist, a law that is generally violated is not a law. Laws to be enforceable, must conform to sound principle and must have the support of an overwhelming public sentiment.

No law which violates individual liberty and the inherent rights of men which are embodied in our Constitution can be enforced without such a tremendous cost in money and strength of Government that the people will ultimately revolt against it. The statute books are clogged with non-enforceable laws which have become dead letters, because they violate the fundamental principles of sound legislation.

We commend both Gov. Pinchot and Dr. Eliot to a careful reading of John Stuart Mill on "Liberty" and other authorities of equal value who have defined clearly the rights of individuals and the functions of Government. They will learn the fatal defect of summary laws. And if they will add to this study an unprejudiced view of American institutions, they will find that the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law usurp also the rights of the states.

WHY MINORITIES RULE.

The stay-at-home vote at last has fallen under the eye of the scientific survey. Simon Michelet, as told in Sunday's Post-Dispatch, has reckoned the ratio of voters and nonvoters by states in the 1920 presidential election. The story of the figures is astounding. The number of voters who stayed at home for every 100 votes cast runs from 24 in Kentucky to 736 in Mississippi.

The failure of nearly half of the possible voters to go to the polls in a national election, and of 80 per cent in the constitutional amendment election in St. Louis last February, is the opportunity of the organized and special interest minorities—the bonus bloc, the farm bloc, the labor bloc, the prohibition bloc, the Ku Klux Klan, the local political machines. A complete general vote has a many times greater chance of blocking the special groups who have an axe to grind or a hammer to wield.

The facts and figures are the first step toward getting control of the stay-at-home vote. It, too, can be overcome by education and organization. The safety of the republic depends on representative voting.

A PERTURBING "FIND" IN FICTION.

If an initiative, plebiscite or something of the sort could be taken, it is quite likely that the result would show a very considerable proportion of the American people inclined to the conviction that American fiction has been pouring precipitately down hill in recent years. This insinuation applies more particularly to the general trend of the "characters" cultivated by the fictionists than to any other aspect. We are moved to offer this observation by discovery of the disquieting fact that the receding chime has appeared in our contemporary fiction. Witness this, from "Imperturbable," a new novel by Elliott H. Paul:

"There was a dizzy whirl, a slow descent, and he was aware of water dribbling down his chin and inside his collar." Now that is nothing less than alarming. "Imperturbable" shouted Walt Whitman, whom nothing imperturbable Walt has lifted from the dead and set it down upon his title page, should be warned that he is going a bit too far. How can he expect his readers to remain unperturbed when he creates for them a character so unrepresentative in physique as to permit the possibility of water, eighteenth amendment aqua pura, entering the collar band by dribbling from the chin?

We demand of our fictionists men with manly chins, not poor fish so sordidly chiseled by nature that, standing in the head-back posture required in the normal consumption of drink, lie or illicit, the natural downflow of the overflow must wet their chests instead of their vests. Charles Dickens created many characters fearfully and wonderfully made; but our observation of the Crutshanks drawings which illustrated the master's works has not shown us a single person so perturbably chinned. Another such perturbing discovery, and we shall get back to Dickens, or—much as we despise the method—insist upon a Federal censorship of fiction. A chinless literature is unthinkable.

THE KLAN ITS OWN SOLUTION.

The Ku Klux Klan is rapidly forging to the front as a political embarrassment. The Indiana situation, as described by a Washington correspondent of the Post-Dispatch, is an illuminating example. The Klan's power in the Hoosier State, as demonstrated in the recent Republican gubernatorial primary when its candidate, Jackson, polled more votes than all his contestants, raises a new difficulty for Mr. Coolidge. If he campaigns with Jackson the President will alienate the large negro vote, which, together with the opposition of all the liberal antillean elements, may deliver Indiana's electoral vote to Mr. Coolidge's Democratic opponent. On the other hand, the danger of antagonizing the Klan, from the viewpoint of the election's result, must be taken into account.

In the neighboring states of Ohio and Illinois the situation is similar to that in Indiana, though perhaps not quite so acute. And while opportunism shivers in the presence of such a dilemma the citizen of sincere convictions will welcome the showdown. When bigotry and fanaticism as embodied in the Klan have evolved into a monster which expediency can no longer ignore or evade—when there is nothing to be gained by colorless neutrality—when it becomes the toss of a coin whether political advantage rest with support of, or opposition to, the Klan—in that predicament the politicians can afford to be courageous and honest.

It is no compliment to Mr. Coolidge that he should ponder his policy in this instance in the light of political consequences. Such attitude emphasizes his New England caution but it puts his New England conscience on ice. But that is a mere incidental. The point of real value is found in the fact that the Klan by its own growth foresees its own solution—its own dissolution. When there is nothing to be gained by cowardly straddling this question, as both parties in Missouri have done, party leaders can then unreservedly state their sentiments. The issue will then squarely be joined between the forces of intolerance and perverted Americanism on the one side and on the other the forces of historic, constitutional Americanism.

The course of legislation raises the question whether the White House has been too silent or too silent enough.

A CALL FOR CHAMP CLARK.

It is alleged that a considerable number of the numerous descendants of Thomas Jefferson who inhabit Pike County, Mo., are active members of the Ku Klux Klan. Together with the rest of the S-K throttlers of civil and religious liberty, they are assumed to collect themselves nocturnally every now and then in some pleasant pasture adjacent to Bowling Green, home and burial place of the Jeffersonian Champ Clark, where, concealing their identities in pillowslip masks and long white nightgown robes, they stand in solemn "konklave" whilst a fiery cross sputters overhead, distributing sparks of superstition and intolerance.

Thomas Jefferson, who insisted that the fact of his authorship of the Virginia statute for religious freedom be carved upon his tombstone, is exceedingly fortunate in having died nearly a hundred years before this family disgrace leaked out. The illustrious ancestor of these alleged klansmen wrote also several other precious documents, those occurring to mind just now being the well-known Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights which constitutes the first 10 amendments to the Federal Constitution; though these human specimens of his offspring, far removed in several senses, apparently are unaware of such authorship.

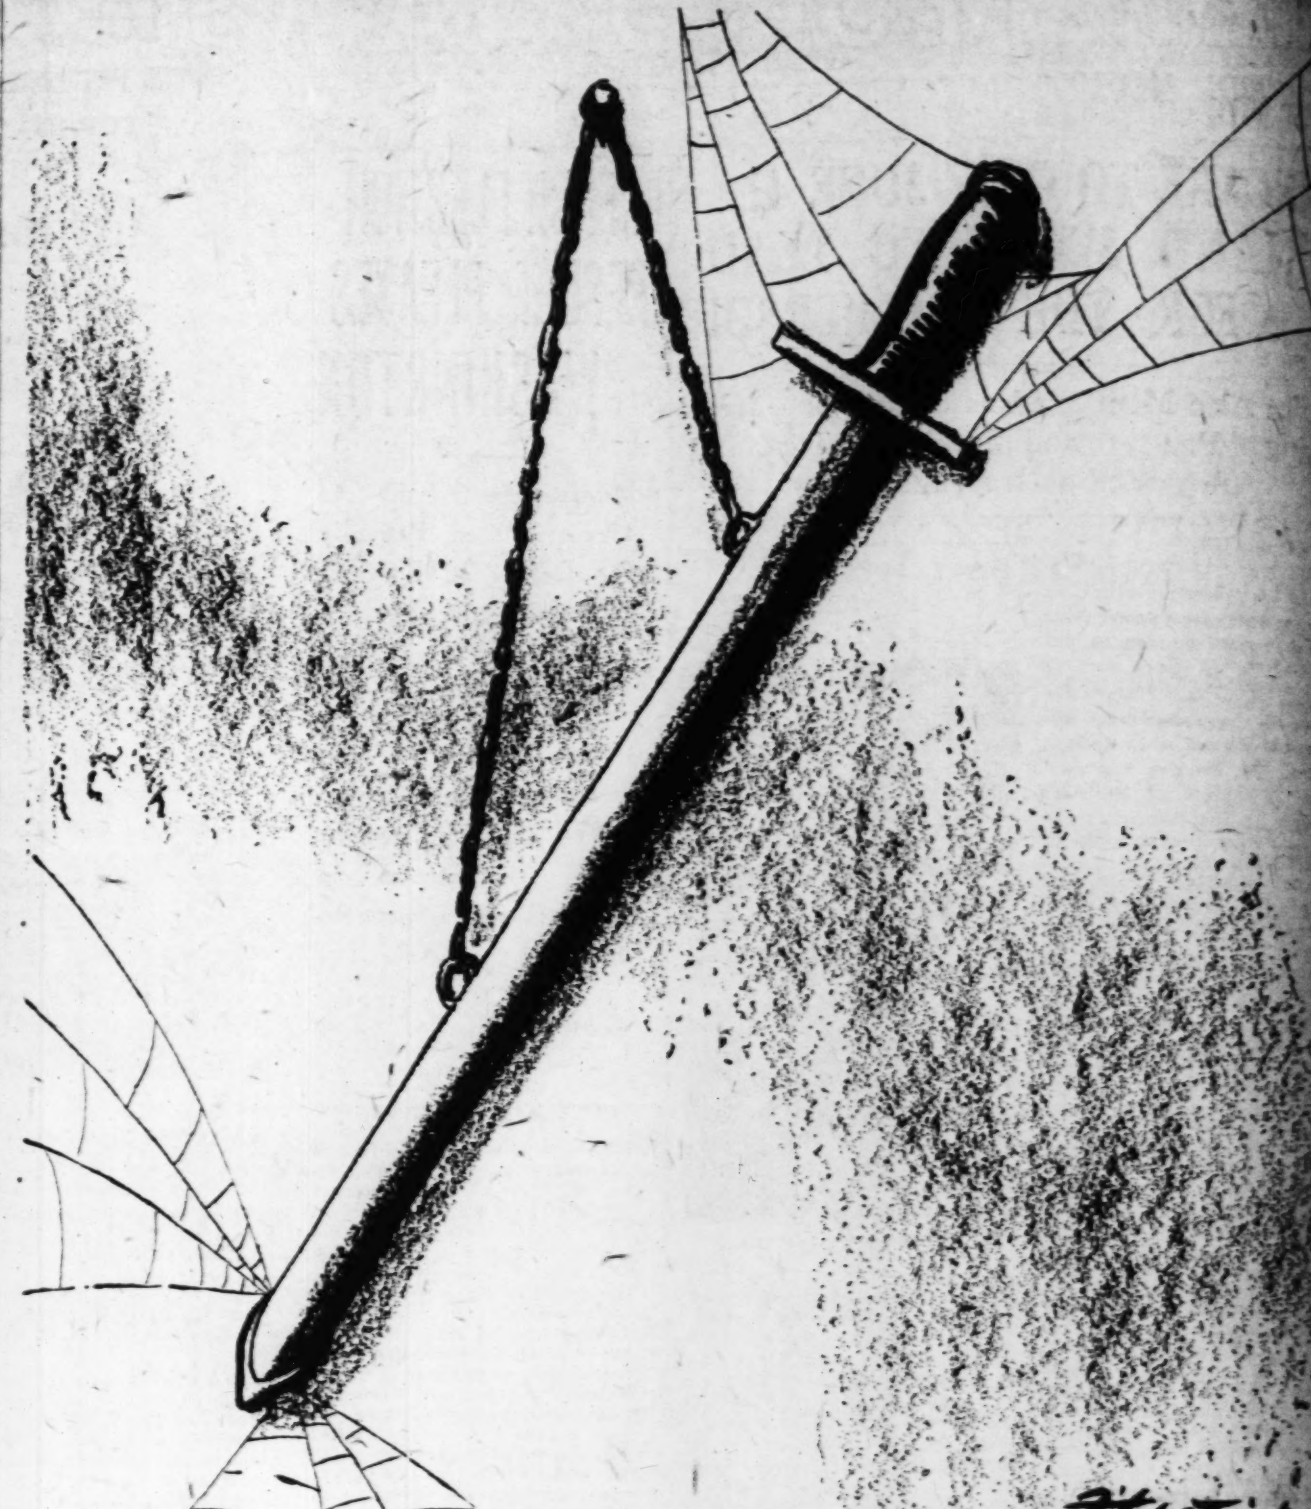

Would that Champ Clark might reappear in the Bowling Green Courthouse, where he began the practice of the law, and launch a verbal thunderbolt against the whole anti-Jeffersonian outfit! Champ could do it nobly, and he would.

TIME CAN'T BE KILLED.

The pastime of "killing time," so called, is one of the world's most popular diversions. Yet all those who indulge therein are but deceiving themselves. Time just simply can't be killed. Along with its equally deathless twin sister, Space, Time is one of the indubitable immortals. One does not need a profound knowledge and understanding of Einstein to appreciate this fact at its absolute value.

The time-killers kill merely a valuable part of themselves every time they "kill time" by doing something merely to "pass the time." If it be to attend a picture show for that purpose only, it is but a matter of applying the bludgeon or the axe to a more or less vital portion of the unfortunate one's spiritual anatomy. If it take the form of whizzing about the streets or along the roads in a modern speed chariot for no reason other than that "time hangs heavy," an appreciable injury is sure to result, even though the machine fail to be ditched or to collide with another. Even going to church "just to kill time" is not calculated to get the poor one whit nearer the goal at which believers aim.

It is indisputable that millions of people now living—so to express it—find time hanging so heavily on their hands that they consume virtually all of what may be termed their spare time in killing time—as they imagine. The chief reason why people try to kill time is that they don't like their own company. The time-killers are bored to themselves. A person who hates to associate with himself is to be pitied. Yet there is hope for him. If he will become a reformer and begin at home! He must, first of all, lift himself up to a point where he can respect himself. The time-killer is one who has lost, or never possessed, that human faculty which confers upon man his grandest and most glorious feeling—self-respect.

ANALYTICS.

It is said that Dr. Butler had the consent of his directors to say what he did. He therefore belongs to that type of courage whose bridges are asbestos behind it.

Congressman Rainey would know if the McNary-Haugen bill would work? That is not the American idea. The question is whether we ought to do it. If Mr. Rainey will investigate, he will find that most of our laws do not work, but were passed because we felt we ought to have them.

Maybe the people who are jumping from the Free Bridge are in the straw hat business.

CAN YOU CAN?

When a dog's tail is canned, is it the dog's "can," or the can on the dog that makes the can and dog go where they can?

Well, the can can, when the can can go—moving as far as the dog can with the can—the dog carrying the can as it can and must.

Call it all a tie, you can. Yet untie the can as soon as you can, and never can the dog, if you can.

But can in the can what you can can.

AFTER YOU, ALPHONSE.

Sir: Many old-timers in St. Louis will remember a lovable character of former days whom everyone knew as "the Professor." He was a thorough gentleman of the old school. Politeness seemed an integral part of his make-up. Though a learned man and a writer of notable skill, politeness and urbanity were such distinguishing traits in the Professor's manner that he is remembered almost solely for those pleasing qualities. He played no favorites. He smiled and raised his hat to everyone alike, from the Mayor of the city to the colored elevator boy who carried him to his office on the seventh floor. He was never known to take precedence over anyone, either upon entering or leaving the elevator. Hat in hand, and with courtesy bow, the professor always insisted upon everyone else preceding him. There is no record of anyone ever succeeding in getting the better of the professor on this point. Many attempted it, but the Professor invariably came off victorious.

The story goes that once upon a time a big, rough-necked plumber attempted to put the Professor over the ropes in a friendly bout at precedential politeness. The Professor, as usual, insisted on the plumber entering the elevator first. The plumber, rather taken by surprise, but not wishing to be outdone in politeness, deferentially waived priority. The Professor, removing his hat, smilingly but firmly indicated with a wave of the hand that the plumber should proceed to precede. The plumber, growing hot under the collar, jerked off his hat, and with a hand like a Cincinnati ham, smote the air with a mighty gesture of indication to the Professor to advance. Nothing doing. The Professor was proof against the physical superiority of the plumber, and stood coolly, calmly insisting, holding the salient at every point and easily master of the situation. The perplexing plumber whined. As he lunged into the elevator he muttered, under his breath: "Oh, hell—wots de use? I'll go first!"

PROHIBITION AND TOLERANCE.

From the New York Herald-Tribune.

WE refer the critics of Dr. Butler to an admirable statement of the case for tolerance in a new volume from the distinguished clergyman. Messrs. E. F. Dineen & Co. have just republished from the 1887 two lectures by Phillips Brown, delivered before several of the Episcopal schools of the Protestant Episcopal Church upon this very subject. Incidentally, the volume happens to contain a glowing word by Dr. Butler, remarking upon "intolerant clamor" and "intolerant intolerance" which, tolerance is required. That now "surround us on every hand" some 30 playhouses in New York and other cities, is the prime mover in the organization of the new Managers' Protective Association, which includes several actors, dancers and is about to conclude an agreement with Equity.

Opposed to Equity are such managers as David Belasco, Abraham Erlanger and Florenz Zieffeld. ## ECHO ANSWERS "WHY."

From the Toledo Blade.

NEW ideas are frequently far less new than old ones. In some degree, the progress of the world is the result of thinking and acting their way out of the old. This bulletin denounced the members of Equity as allies of the men responsible for the butcherings at Herrin, Ill., and purported to bear the signatures of a number of actors. David Warfield and William Faversham, whose names appeared on the list, promptly repudiated the statement, resigned from Equity and applied for membership in Equity. E. H. Rothman and Julia Marlowe, who were named without authority, Miss Ida Clay also wired that her name was unwarrantably employed.

MULISHNESS.

From the Baltimore Evening Sun.

A MULE is nobody's fool. Most men agree that in his untutored way he has more sound intelligence than the average man. Certain it is that in case of fire the mule is the last to be burned.

mental horse becomes hysterical, mule follows the end of his halter, and things are not easily persuaded to change. The mule has no monopoly of mulishness. Nearly all mortals are mulish in some degree. Men consumed by mulishness are not a product of mulishness. Men consumed by mulishness are not a product of mulishness. Men consumed by mulishness are not a product of mulishness.

The girl worth kissing is the one who loosened the eye teeth of the last man who succeeded in stealing one. She thrived more vigorously when the man was persecuted; faith was stronger; there was no freedom of worship.

ACTORS RATIFY DEAL WITH MANAGERS

Action Means Victory of Shubert Over Equity and Rival Producers.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, May 12.—The Actors' Equity Association yesterday ratified the contract drawn several days ago by its officers and the newly formed Managers' Protective Association with only one dissenting vote out of 1,200. The terms of the contract, divulged at a mass meeting in the Forty-Eighth Street Theater, showed that Lee Shubert, guiding spirit of the new managers' organization, had won a smashing victory.

In effect, Shubert won a victory not only over the Equity, whose officers voted time and again never to accept anything short of an equity shop, but also over the Producing Managers' Association, headed by Sam H. Harris and Augustus Thomas, which has now been reduced to a fourth of its former size and influence.

The new contract provides: After June 1, the date which had been set for a strike of actors and actresses with a view of bringing all the managers to terms, at least 80 per cent of all casts controlled by the Managers' Protective Association shall be members in good standing of the equity. The other 20 per cent may be nonmembers.

Of the permissible 20 per cent, none shall be members of the equity delinquent in their dues or shall have been dropped or expelled by equity. Before the first rehearsal, nonmembers must pay into the equity treasury a sum equal to their initiation dues and fees and must thereafter continue to pay the amounts that all regular members pay.

Equity agrees to keep its membership rolls open for 25 years and not to increase its initiation dues during that period.

Equity agrees not to interfere in subject matter, text or casting of plays, nor to dictate salaries, except in the case of the minimum wage for chorus girls.

Equity agreed not to indulge in sympathetic strikes in case of trouble with other theatrical unions.

A joint board of arbitration, with an umpire, shall decide all disputes.

The agreement shall remain in force for 10 years.

The plan is virtually the one proposed three months ago by Shubert and L. Lawrence Weber, who is secretary both of the Managers' Protective Association and the Producing Managers' Association, to John Emerson and Frank Gillmore, president and executive secretary respectively of the equity. It was put into legal form by William Klein, for the managers, and Paul N. Turner and Justice Sherfield for the equity.

According to an agreement after the contract is signed no further negotiations between the equity and the Producing Managers' Association will be undertaken.

How Strike Would Affect Theater Industry.

The principal effect of a theatrical strike, if it occurs, is expected by many observers to be that of placing the Shuberts in control of the show business of the country. This firm, comprising some 30 playhouses in New York and other cities, is the prime mover in the organization of the new Managers' Protective Association, which includes several actors, dancers and is about to conclude an agreement with Equity.

Opposed to Equity are such managers as David Belasco, Abraham Erlanger and Florenz Ziegfeld. Students of the situation do not see how the actors, with the managers hopelessly divided, can fall to win their proposed strike, as they defeated all the producers put together in the strike five years ago.

The cause of the recalcitrant managers was somewhat weakened a few days ago by a statement issued by mistake, according to the producers, of the organization, from the offices of Fidelity, the rival, nonunion association of actors. This bulletin denounced the members of Equity as allies of the men responsible for the butcheries at Herrin, Ill., and purported to bear the signatures of a number of actors. David Warfield and William Faversham, whose names appeared on the list, promptly repudiated the statement, resigned from Fidelity and applied for membership in Equity. E. H. Rothman and Julia Marlowe came from mid-ocean that their names were used without their consent. Miss Ina Claire also wired that her name was unwarrantably employed.

The Shuberts and their associates control a majority of the New York playhouses, besides theaters in other cities. The Shuberts have been accused by their opponents of being essentially real estate operators, employing the drama to feed their rentals.

A Report Day by Day of His Observations on a Tour of Europe.

By Clinton W. Gilbert.

(Copyright, 1934.)

WHEN you go eastward from Berlin toward Moscow you encounter the nuisance nations set up by the late war in the name of self-determination of the people. And it is an amusing fact that the German Hohenzollerns, who didn't care a whoop for Mr. Wilson's phrases, established as many nuisance nations as the author of the 14 points. Imagine traveling from New York to Chicago and having the train stop six hours while you got out and paid porters to lug your baggage before customs inspectors six or eight times while your passport was looked at a dozen times! The one thing we got through the Hohenzollern joke upon Mr. Wilson in this part of the world was self-determination, a lot of one-eyed people who didn't know till the Germans told them so that they had nationalist aspirations; but it was the end of all self-determination for the world at large. Europe is now like a household in which the children are unrestrained, down out all conversation in their uproar, trample on your feet and keep you dodging missiles that they are always throwing. What I should like to see is a little self-determination of humanity.

For example, you get to Eydikuhnen on the way to Moscow. It's the border town between Germany and Lithuania. The place, as the Germans say, "where the wolves and the foxes say good night to each other." "All out!" Does the German train go into Lithuania? No, the Germans say their respects to the self-determining Lithuanians and Latvians just beyond by keeping their trains at home. The general explanation is that the Germans are afraid that the liberty-loving Lithuanians and Latvians would steal their trains if once they got within their borders. And the fact is that both these countries were set up in business with a complete outfit of German and Russian rolling stock, whether by law or otherwise I don't know.

Well, "all out!" at Eydikuhnen. Your baggage is taken into a waiting room, opened and carefully eyed. Your passport disappears. You wait for one hour and a half. Crossing the Dutch frontier, the Germans and Dutch turn up together, glance at your passport without taking them from you and pass your baggage without looking at it. But on the eastern frontier Germany behaves as if she had just got national and taking it as seriously as according to dispatches here they take the American nationality out in Northwestern University. You enter a Lithuanian train. You wait a minute at Wirballen. "All out!" again for an hour and a half or two hours while the Lithuanians inspect your baggage and your passport. You pay the porters 2 marks at Eydikuhnen and you pay them 4 "lits" at Wirballen. The Lithuanians had the happy thought of naming their currency after themselves, just as if we should call our dollars "usars."

Well, the Latvians were not slow to perceive that their neighbors had been so busy in exhibiting a national spirit, so they created a new currency and named it "lats." Two "lats" are equal to one "lit." or they were when we were paying porters. The Latvians have also rubles. One of the madnasses of Europe is that many countries have two or three kinds of currency. Fifty rubles in Latvia are sometimes worth a lot for paying porters. One mark in Germany printed on one kind of paper is worth 1,000,000 marks on another kind of paper and 1,000,000,000 marks in Latvia are equal to 1,000,000 marks on still another kind of paper. Fifty thousand rubles in Russia on one kind of paper equal 1 ruble on another kind.

Well, at the border between Lithuania and Latvia you repeat the experiences of Eydikuhnen and Wirballen and again at the border between Latvia and Russia. As 100 centers these nuisance nations make the United States look like weak-kneed internationalists. I suggest that our super-patriots go and study their ways. Go to Latvia or the Lat. (how ill-spelled) pacifier. The train joggles along across the line between Lithuania and Latvia. You are drinking a bottle of Apollinaris in the dining car. The waiter hastily grabs the bottle and replaces it with a bottle of seltzer. Apollinaris is a Lit. water, and you are now in Lat. territory and you must drink a Lat. water-seltzer. I suggest that these centers of the board who were reared in the United States of America against the corrodng influences that attack our national spirit.

My definition of a self-determining people is one which has set up artificial borders to put money in the pockets of railroad porters.

England Gives Queen Marie
A Brilliant Reception

Banquet at Buckingham Palace Attended by Premier and Ambassador and Mrs. Kellogg

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, May 12.—Queen Marie of Rumania has come back to England to pay a state visit to her grandmother's old home, Buckingham Palace, and the welcome she received was truly Victorian in its splendor.

Battalions of brilliantly uniformed troops and mounted bands lined the route from Victoria Station to the Palace. Behind the soldiers surged thousands of pageant-loving Londoners, to whom the sight of Royalty in carriages is ever a signal for enthusiastic saluting, gentlemenly hawking and decorous cheering.

Queen Marie wore a wine red fur-trimmed cloak with a small red and black hat pushed close down upon her head. She seemed a vivacious friendly sort of person beside the stately dignified Queen of England, who was dressed in a silver, tulle brocade coat and her usual upstanding gray toupée.

After introductions at the Palace, Queen Marie donned a gown of more somber hue and with King and Queen went to White Hall yesterday, where they laid a wreath on the Cenotaph.

Today, the Rumanian rulers will visit the Guild Hall and receive the freedom of the city. The four days of the state visit will be crowded with balls, receptions and dinners.

The Prince of Wales met the visiting King and Queen at Dover and accompanied them to London, but as the young Princess Helena, whom gossips insist on listing as a possible wife for the Prince, was left at home in Bucharest, there is no cause for reviving rumors about such a match, according to influential persons who should know what is going on at court.

According to the Foreign Office there is no political significance attached to the Rumanian visit despite the fact that M. Ducea, the Rumanian Foreign Minister, accompanies the sovereigns. It is stated that Anglo-Rumanian relations are already most friendly and that further treaties are not likely to be needed.

Nathan Straus Would Eliminate Beggars.
NEW YORK, May 12.—For the last ten years Nathan Straus has devoted his income and part of the principal of his fortune to Zionism, milk pasteurization and other charities, he said yesterday in an address before the convention of the United Synagogue of America. His latest effort was, he stated, to eliminate the beggars in Jerusalem, by providing a fund to give them two meals a day. He said the authorities there had just accepted his offer. He is continuing his work there until living standards are placed as high as possible.

If it grows, may be great in international affairs; for the class solidarity among Socialists of both countries may tend to heal outstanding Franco-British differences and create a new entente between MacDonald and the new French Government.

In a political speech in London last night, David Lloyd George, former British Prime Minister, alluded to the results in the French election as a great Liberal victory—an event of great significance and deep moment, which he firmly believed would conduce to a much needed pacification of the world.

The Times says: "Whatever Government may come into power in France now has an exceptional opportunity of co-operating in a policy of re-establishing something like normal conditions in Europe. The experts' report on reparations has laid down a program of action, and the results of both the German and French elections show the necessity of getting to work on the execution of it with all possible speed."

German Moderates Stimulated by Results of French Election.
Copyright, 1931, by the Press and Publishing Association of the World and the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, May 12.—The swing to the left in France has had a tremendous and immediate effect in Germany. The moderates, stimulated by the news from Paris, are joining their forces to prevent the Nationalists from entering the Government.

The People's party, the Centrum and the Democrats are forming one bourgeois bloc which will be practically one party. Chancellor Marx and Foreign Minister Stresemann plan now to appear before the Reichstag as representatives of the united moderates. As such they can claim to represent the strongest party in the Reich. Negotiations for the amalgamation of the three parties are still going on. Public announcement of the union is expected within a few days.

Though the party distinctions will be retained in one form or another, for all Reichstag purposes the bourgeois bloc will be a single group. With this the moderates can retain control of the Government.

But even with the support of the Socialists, the two-thirds majority necessary for complete carrying out of the reparations experts' plan will not be available. The Government, however, hopes to win for this acceptance the left wing of the Nationalists, which is under control of big industry, as is the People's party. But the Government's immediate concern is to use the French elections to stave off reaction in Germany.

The Tageblatt considers it pitiable that the moment when the French people are turning their backs on the devil and when reasonable discussions could begin, should have been chosen by political ignorance in Germany to foster nationalism.

and Walter B. Byron, vice president of the Gulf Production Co. "The substance of what he said," the witness went on, "was that he was looking for someone to raise a campaign fund. Mr. Mayfield had always been fair to the oil interests, and believed the boys owed him something."

Subsequently Wood swore that he became a Mayfield man and made a small contribution. But this was purely a local campaign, he insisted, and the senatorial candidate knew nothing about the sum that was raised.

TESTIFIES UHL'S 'FRAMED' HOLDUP OF HIS CREDITOR

Former Patient of Accused Kansas Doctor and Co-Defendant Turns State's Evidence.

By the Associated Press.

JATHE, Kan., May 12.—First incriminating evidence against Dr. Kean B. Uhl, former head of the Uhl Sanitarium, Overland Park, Kan., on trial here on a first-degree robbery charge of the holdup of L. D. Breyfogle Jr., Jan. 2, came when Joe Lasalle, accused jointly in the robbery, testified he arranged with Uhl for the holdup. Lasalle turned State's evidence.

The trial, which began yesterday before Judge J. O. Rankin, is attended by a crowd that thronged the courtroom.

Accused jointly with Uhl and Lasalle is Frank Leonard, now in jail in Hutchinson, Kan. He will be tried later.

Lasalle testified that prior to the appearance of Breyfogle the night of the holdup, he and Leonard arranged with Uhl for the robbery. Lasalle and Leonard were patients at the sanitarium at the time.

"I'm going to pay a man $500 in Liberty bonds on a debt I owe him," Lasalle testified Uhl told them. "You go after him and get the bonds back."

"We held up Breyfogle and delivered the bonds to Uhl," Lasalle said.

O. W. Samuels, of counsel for Uhl, asked Lasalle whether he still used narcotics. The witness replied that he used some at 8 o'clock in the morning, but that it did not keep him from telling the truth.

"In consideration for your turning State's evidence, is the prosecutor going to grant you immunity?" he was asked.

"Yes, they have promised me immunity if I tell the truth," Lasalle answered.

Lasalle followed Breyfogle to the witness stand. Breyfogle had testified Uhl owed him $537 on a bill, and paid him $500 in Liberty bonds. When he was a quarter of a mile from the sanitarium two men approached him and one of them said: "We don't want your money. You know what we want."

Breyfogle said that later he found the car the men used in the back yard of the sanitarium.

MINE OFFICIAL WOULD ELECTRIFY STATE OF ILLINOIS

Frank Farrington Suggests That Giant Power Plants
Be Built on Ohio and Mississippi Rivers.

WANTS COMMITTEE
TO MAKE INQUIRY

President of Illinois Miners
Also Suggests Co-operation With Owners to Reduce Coal Cost.

By the Associated Press.
PEORIA, Ill., May 12.—A scheme for electrifying the entire State of Illinois was proposed by President Frank Farrington in opening the biennial convention of the Illinois Mine Workers here today.

Permanent relief for the unemployed which, he said, has overtaken almost one-third of the Illinois miners, closing 150 mines and throwing 30,000 men out of work,
was pictured by Farrington as one of the benefits of his proposal. He urged the miners to authorize the employment of an expert to investigate the project, and recommended
the establishment of "one or more giant power plants" on the Ohio
and Mississippi rivers.

A second proposal for relief of unemployment was that the miners co-operate with the mine owners in reducing the cost of producing coal to level nearer the cost in competitive non-union fields.

"I expect no applause over the advice," he said. "I hold no brief
for the Illinois operators, but I do for the Illinois miners. My only desire is to help them. To do this,
however, I must help the operators and a wider market for their coal
without markets there can be no
work."

Farrington's proposal for electrifying the State came as a suggestion for improving and stabilizing
the coal industry. His plan is to build power plants for the production of electricity in sufficient quantity to supply the State of Illinois both rural and urban, utilizing the bulk of Illinois coal at these plants.

What Plan Means.

President Farrington spoke of "a substitute for nationalization of mines in Illinois," a reorganization of the coal industry of Illinois
on a new basis, without waiting for the consent of two-thirds of the States of the Union.

"Such a reorganization," he said,
"would imply creation of:
"1. A semi-public corporation in which District Twelve (United Mine Workers of America),
the consumers, and the State should be represented, so as to safeguard the interests of all these factions.

"2. An integrated network of major and minor power lines to make electricity available to every hamlet and farm house in the State.

"3. The establishment of one or more giant-power plants on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers for the manufacture of electricity.

"4. The distillation of coal at or near the giant power station,
in order to save the by-products
of coal which are now wasted.

Enumerates Benefits.

"The benefits anticipated from
this plan are:

"1. An increased demand for Illinois coal through the substitution
of electric light for kerosene light;
the substitution of electric power
for gasoline power; the substitution
of electric stoves for wood, oil, gasoline and crude oil burning stoves; the more extensive use of electrical labor saving devices in the home and farm, such as washing machines, vacuum cleaners,
corn shredders, etc.; the illumination of concrete highways; the substitution of artificial anthracite for fuel oil in heating plants.

"2. A marked reduction in the price of light, heat and power.

"3. The stimulation of industry
by a steady supply of light, heat
and power at reasonable prices.

"4. The abolition of the smoke nuisance.

"5. Cheaper fertilizer for the reclamation of farm land.

"6. Steady employment for miners.

"This plan must be regarded merely as a suggestion. An enterprise of such magnitude should only be undertaken as the result of a thorough survey on the part of qualified experts of national reputation.

Quotes Experts.

"I may state, however, that such high authorities in electrical and industrial engineering as Edison,
Hoover, Ford and the late Stielmetz have given their sanction to the giant power plan as I have sketched it. Sooner or later
the welfare of our country, as well as that of the coal industry upon which the well-being of our miners is dependent, will require a profound change in the mining,
distribution and utilization of coal.

"The only question seems to be whether the change will be brought about by gigantic private monop-
lies or by semipublic service corporations in which the producer and consumer are directly interested.

Lieut. Smith, Now Leading World Flight, Holds Many Records as Intrepid Flyer

Refueled Plane When Flying 90 Miles an Hour—
Made 37-Hour Endurance
Record—Won Cross-
Continent and Return
Race in 1919.

LIEUT. LOWELL H. SMITH,
now in command of the three remaining U. S. Army around-the-world planes, took part in a successful attempt in June, 1923,
to refuel an airplane in midair. Gasoline was transferred from another plane to Lieut. Smith's while both airships were racing through the air at 90 miles per hour.

Aug. 29, 1923, Lieut. Smith and Lieut. John Richier broke the world's record for endurance and distance and speed when they cruised above San Diego, Calif., for 37 hours and 15 minutes, after their plane had been refueled and repositioned while in the air.

Lieut. Smith was born in Santa Barbara, Calif., and during the World War was assistant officer in charge of training at Kelly Field,
Tex. Later, he was a member of a Handley-Page bombing group in England.

In 1919, he won the San Francisco-
New York and return air race, with 54 hours flying time. The speed record for the flight from San Francisco to San Diego, four hours and six minutes, also was won by Lieut. Smith.

878-MILE HOP TO JAPAN TOMORROW

CORVOVA, Alaska, May 12.—
With calm weather forecast for today at Attu Island, where three United States Army air cruises are stationed, it was expected that the expedition would hasten preparations for the next jump tomorrow of their world-encircling flight, an 878-mile trip to Paramashiru Island, in the Kurile group, Japan.

Gales here prevented the men
from inspecting, repairing and overhauling the machines at Attu up to this time. Everything will be made as nearly perfect as possible
for the longest hop of the 27,000-mile trip.

Meanwhile Maj. Frederick L.
Martin, commander of the expedition, and his mechanic, Staff Sergeant Alvin L. Harvey, who crashlanded on a mountain 100 miles northwest of Chignik, April 20, and who reached Port Moller on the Bering Sea coast Saturday, May 10, were to start today to Seattle and Washington, D. C.

BOMBAY, May 12.—Stuart Mac-Laren, British aviator, continuing his world flight, has arrived at Nasirabad, 14 miles south of Ajmere, British India.

Comment, 1923, by the Press and Post
and the Daily Mail.

PARIS, May 12.—There is speculation here whether Lieut. Pelletier, Doloy, flying from here to Tokyo,
or the American round-the-world
fliers will reach the Japanese capital first. Doloy is in Saigon, Indo-China, putting his machine in order for the remaining 4,500

of our citizenship more vitally interested in the coal industry than we who bear its burden. I request that this convention empower the executive board of District 12 to employ the funds of the organization
to obtain the necessary expert advice to ascertain the practicability
and desirability of the plan
suggested herein."

Menace of Competition.

"Theoretically such an organization should be able to improve the living and working conditions of its members to a limited extent.
However, there are certain limits beyond which our demands cannot go. As you know, the bituminous coal industry is highly competitive and under free competition.
Competition from the unorganized field has already reached a proportion which has become a serious menace to the life of our organization and the coal industry of Illinois as well.

"The remedy for the competition
of nonunion coal would be, of course, the unionization of the unorganized fields. But while we all hope that some day these fields
may be as strongly organized as our own district, we cannot blink at the unpleasant fact that all attempts in that direction have met with such tremendous obstacles as to make them more or less futile.

"In the face of these conditions
it will become increasingly difficult to obtain the improvements in wages and working conditions to which our members are justly entitled. In other words, we find ourselves in this position, where every advance in wages and lowering of hours of labor is followed by a reduction of production in the organized fields for the benefit of the unorganized fields. If we follow this tendency in the mining, we may imagine a situation where our wages and conditions are less favorable as to put an end to the coal industry in Illinois.

"Under these circumstances it becomes our duty to seek new means by which our members may secure a decent living from the industry to which their lives are de-

Island, a good many miles closer,
but with more difficult flying condition. Doloy's route will take him

Kai Dou in Korea, Hakata and To-

Concentrated Food Probably Saved
Wrecked Flyers.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-23 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Maj.
Fred L. Martin and his mechanic, Sergeant Alvin L. Harvey, whose airplane Seattle was wrecked when it struck an Alaska mountain on April 20, probably saved off starvation
with a concentrated food compound, one teaspoonful of which equaled a meal, according to Air Service officers here, who made the preliminary arrangements for the
around-the-world flight.

This concentrated food, these officers said, is a heavy enough
liquid, not particularly palatable, prepared from a formula of a Los Angeles doctor. One teaspoonful is said to contain all the calories and vitamins of an ordinary meal.

All purchases of food and personal equipment were left to the fliers themselves, so officers here
do not know exactly what stocks
were in the planes.

Other provisions carried by the fliers were matted milk tablets such as Maj. Martin ate when he was forced down at Portage Bay, Alaska, on April 15; milk, chocolate and dehydrated fruits and vegetables, which had been reduced to one-sixth of normal weight.

Personal equipment also was left to the discretion of the fliers.
Maj. Martin and his aid had fishing tackle and small firearms. The plan for food equipment and spare parts was 200 pounds.

The fliers were well equipped to withstand the cold. They flying suits and the fur of the cap, the couple could be slept in comfort, ably with the temperature 40 degrees below zero. Their heads and faces were protected by chamou-se helmets, and their feet by fleece-lined boots.

voted, and which at the same time
would bring a distinct benefit to the industry and to society at large.

"Under the present method of mining, the bulk of the coal is left in the ground and lost forever. If the facts were to be ascertained it also might be found that it costs
nearly as much to remove the basement of the consumer and dump them in the lake, as it cost to mine the ton of coal in the first place. The City of St. Louis, for instance, is paying 12 1/2 for the removal of a ton of ashes.

Difficulty of Nationalization.

"In view of the unsatisfactory status of the coal industry three successive conventions of the U. S.
W. of A. have adopted resolutions contemplating the nationalization
of the mines.

"Without going into the merits
of the plan suggested by our committee, let me state that the decentralized character of our Government would make it exceedingly difficult to bring about the nation-alization of the mines, even if such a policy were found feasible and desirable. The legal and constitutional obstacles alone are of such a nature as to require the labor of dozens to overcome them.

"To help the miner I must help
the operators find a wider market
for their coal. Without markets
there can be no work. The mining industry is fully 25 per cent overdeveloped, which means there is an abundant supply from which the consumer may choose and the competition for markets is desperately keen. The operator who can sell his coal cheapest will get the business that means work for the miners. Therefore there is only one way we can get more work for Illinois and that is to cheapen the cost of production to the degree
that will enable the Illinois operators to sell their coal in competition with coal mined in nonunion
and sparsely organized districts
where the cost of production is much less than in Illinois.

"It does not mean that I would have the Illinois miners accept a reduction in wages or give up any beneficial working conditions."

TAX BILL READY FOR CONFERENCE BY TOMORROW

Simmons Warns G. O. P.
the Democratic Sections Must Be Protected or He Will Recall Conference.

G. O. P. TO ACCEPT
40 PCT. SURTAX

For First Time in 25 Years Procedure on Tax Measure Means Senate Must Act First.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 12.—Republicans retained control of the debate on the tax-reduction bill through appointment today by the Senate of three Republicans and two Democrats, the same ratio as fixed by the House.

The following were named as conferees: Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee; Senators Mc-Lean (Conn.) and Curtis (Kan.), Republicans; and Simmons (N. C.)
and Jones (N. M.), Democrats.

Ranking Democratic members on the Finance Committee.

Pointing out the bill as passed by the Senate was modeled on the Democratic program, the main provisions of which had been opposed
by the Republican organization.

Senator Simmons (N. C.), ranking Democrat on the Finance Committee, had suggested the appointment of three Democrats and two Republicans.

Simmons said he would accept
the members named by the Democrats, but if the Democratic sections in the bill were not protected
he would ask for discharging of the Senate conferees and appointment of a new set.

These provisions consist principally of the substitute corporation
tax, imposing a levy on undistributed profits, the Simmons income tax schedule providing for a maximum surtax of 40 per cent, and a proposal for full publicity of tax returns. Unless these proposals are modified administration leaders have declared the measure
a veto.

Chairman Smoot announced the first meeting of the conferees would be held tomorrow. About 10 days or 20 per cent of the bill is to be consumed in ironing out differences between the House and Senate.

CHIEF FIGHT ON CORPORATION TAX

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-23 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The Senate and House have cleared the decks for the final struggle over the tax reduction bill. The House has named the following conferees:
Representatives Green, Iowa;
Hawley, Oregon; Treadwell, Massachusetts; Republicans, Garner, Texas; and Collier, Mississippi; Democrats.

The selection of conferees in the House was made yesterday by Representative Green, Iowa, who is chairman of the House committee on the bill, and was carried through without a ripple of opposition.

For the first time in 25 years the method of procedure adopted in connection with a tax bill means that the Senate will have to act
first upon a conference report.
Heretofore, the method has been for the Senate to name its conferees
so that the first move would have to be on the part of the House. Republican leaders apparently overlooked this advantage.

While Republican leaders in Congress were waiting yesterday for administration spokesmen to definitely provisions of the bill as passed by the Senate or expect a veto, Senate Democrats voiced determination to retain of the principle features of their tax reduction program at any cost.

Republican leaders in both houses apparently are willing to accept the Senate maximum surtax rate of 40 per cent. Smoot has pointed out that after the surtaxes go above 22 per cent maximum he is not greatly interested in what limit is finally decided upon. He holds that the purpose of a lower surtax is deriving greater revenue is lost sight of if the maximum goes beyond 22 per cent.

Corporation Levy Chief Obstacle.

The chief fight will be made over the Jones corporation tax, which is regarded as exceptionally objectionable in its effects upon small business enterprises. Smoot holds that it will stifle the effort of the small business man who is bending every energy to get his business on its feet. It will not, he believes, affect the large corporations to such a harmful degree. The publicity feature, known as the Norris amendment, is equally objectionable. The opposition of President Coolidge to these features already is known.
Many telegrams came from business men throughout the country
today protesting against the Jones
tax and the Norris amendment.
Southern Senators to use their influence to strike it out.

Democrats are sending out an explanation of the Jones tax and to quiet their constituents. Jones insists that there is no harm in his amendment. In analyzing it for Senators who are being urged against it, he said:

I. C. C. SETS NEW RATES

Prescribes Schedule for Certain Rates in Mid-West.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 12.—Class
rates from Indiana points to St.
Paul and Minneapolis, which are higher than the corresponding rates from points in Illinois and on the west bank of the Mississippi in Iowa and Missouri, were found unreasonable today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Community rates on certain items also were found prejudicial, and a new schedule was prescribed.

The commission held that rates on agricultural implements from La-Porte, South Bend, Muncie, Richmond, Evansville and Columbus, Ind., to St. Paul and Minneapolis,
at fifth-class rates, which meet competition of Melroe, Peoria, Chicago and Rockford, Ill., are unduly preferential to Chicago. Rates on various kinds of manufactured iron
also were ordered revised.

apply to or affect in any manner
accumulated surplus of corporations.

"Second—The Republican proposal would impose a flat 14 per cent tax upon the net incomes of all corporations. The Democratic tax upon net income is graduated to the percentage of net income
after paying of the dividends
and all taxes, including the Federal tax. No surtax is imposed upon corporations whose net income does not exceed $10,000.

1921 Statistics Cited.

"In 1921, the last year for which any statistics are available, but which was a year of depressed
business, 171,219 corporations reported net incomes. Of this number, 125,888 reported net incomes of less than $10,000, all of which would thereby be reduced from 14 per cent to 9 per cent. The remaining 45,331 corporations would pay a surtax under the Democratic proposal.

"Of these which would be subject to a surtax, a large number would not lose in taxes than under the Republican proposal. Under the graduation, the corporation retaining 10 per cent of its total net income would pay no surtax. If 20 per cent were retained the surtax would amount to 2 1/2 per cent of the amount retained. If 30 per cent should be retained the surtax
would be 5 per cent of the amount retained, and so on up to a maximum of 40 per cent.

"3. Applying this plan to the corporations with a large income, it works out as follows: Assume a corporation with a net income for the year of $250,000. Under the Republican proposal, this corporation would pay $75,000 as a normal
tax whether distributed in dividends or not. Under the Democratic proposal, this normal tax would be reduced to $45,000. If 10 per cent should be undistributed,
there would be no additional tax.
If 20 per cent were retained, the total tax would be $45,000. If 30 per cent were retained, the total tax would be $60,000. If 40 per cent were retained, the total tax would be $75,000, or substantially the same as would be paid under the Republican proposal.

"It will thus be seen that under the Democratic plan, all corporations with large incomes, retaining undistributed profits less than 42
per cent of their total net income, will pay less taxes than under the Republican plan. If 42 per cent or more is retained, the tax is about equal. But this is not all. Under the Democratic plan, the tax is guaranteed to be a revenue-raising measure, while under the Republican plan it is a revenue-raising measure only if business conditions
which no one can antecipate. He questions the accuracy
of Treasury estimates. He called attention to the fact that the threatened billion dollar deficit
which was used to defeat the bonus
bill finally turned into a surplus.

House Democrats Against Plan.

The view of the House conferees with Representative Garner dominating the Democratic minority group, indicates the Senate Democratic leaders may have considerable difficulty in putting over their own ideas.

The attitude of Democratic leaders in the House is in favor of putting through a bill which the President will be forced to sign. They insist that the President has already made up his mind to veto
the measure and that the Jones corporation tax provision and the publicity feature would give him an excuse to do so, which would not exist in connection with the Simmons normal and surtax rates. In the Senate there is a feeling among the Democrats that the party interests will be best served by a veto,

making the tax question an issue in the campaign. This view is not adhered to by the House leaders.

Senator Smoot retained the bill
in the Senate bill will cause a deficit.
Today he called attention to the fact that the last amendment raising the exemption of married men to $2,500, in the event their net income is $5000 or less, will cost the Treasury $15,000,000.

Simmons' answer that the Democratic rate will raise more revenue
than the Senate Finance Commission bill, and that its effectiveness as a revenue-raising measure
can be gauged only by business conditions which no one can ante-
cipate. He questions the accuracy
of Treasury estimates. He called

Y.M.C.A. CAMPAIGN FOR $3,000,000 UNDER WAY

Advance Pledges Total $884,000—More Than Thousand Solicitors in Field.

A ten-day drive to complete the Y.M.C.A. $3,000,000 development fund began today with 1200 solicitors in the field and almost a third of the fund provided for in advance pledges. The workers, divided in nine teams, are canvassing the city and will make daily reports of progress.

The last of a series of pre-campaign meetings was held last night at City Club with more than 1000 representative business men in attendance. It was announced that advance pledges totaled $884,000, and during the evening the Koken Barber Supply Co. pledged $15,000, bringing the total to $884,000.

The program consisted of inspirational talks by business men, ministers and "Y" officials. Harry Holmes of London, England, who conducted British Y.M.C.A. work during the war, sketched the history of the "Y" movement in England. M. L. Wilkinson presided as chairman at the meeting. Other speakers were Rabbi Louis Witt, Byron W. Moser, E. L. Mogge, campaign director, and Col. James F. Byrnes. Two South Side school boys were on the program with a plea for "Y" facilities in their district.

The $3,000,000 fund will be used, it is planned, to provide five new and modern Y.M.C.A. buildings, including a downtown building, a West End building, a South Side building, a Carondelet building, and a new building for negroes—as well as to provide additions and improvements on present structures.

The long list of pre-campaign subscriptions was read by George D. Markham, chairman of the Special Gifts Committee, at last night's meeting. It included the $200,000 bequest of the late George Warren Brown and the $50,000 pledges of Joseph D. and C. E. Hascomb, and Sam C. Davis, which are the largest single contributions.

The drive today opened at 9 a. m. with the blowing of whistles, honking of automobile horns and other demonstrations by supporters of the movement.

NEAR UNIVERSITY

Harry W. Scott, Former Student at Missouri U., Was Injured on Forsythe Boulevard Saturday.

WAS ON WAY TO WASHINGTON CAMPUS

Boy, an Occupant of Other Car, Testifies at Inquest Scott Was Driving on Left Side of Street.

Harry W. Scott, 23 years old, of 3511 Clemens avenue, formerly a student at the University of Missouri, died yesterday afternoon at Barnes Hospital of a skull fracture suffered Saturday night, when his automobile collided with another machine on Forsythe boulevard, near the Washington University drive to men's dormitory on the campus.

His death was the second resulting from the accident. Scott's fraternity brother, Yoder E. Self, 23, of Webb City, Mo., having died Sunday at St. Luke's Hospital of a skull fracture. Self, who would have been graduated from the University of Missouri this year, was visiting Scott, and the two were on their way to the Washington University annual "Univex Surkuss" at the time of the accident.

At the inquest today, at which a verdict of accident was returned, it was testified that Scott's car, a Buick, traveling west at a high rate of speed on the south side of Forsythe boulevard, collided almost head-on with a Ford being driven east by John Breier, 20, of 7745 Bonhomme avenue. Breier did not take the stand, but his brother, Henry, 15, testified that Breier kept well to the south, believing the other machine would pull out.

Scott was rendered unconscious by the impact and was sent to Barnes Hospital in a passing car by a physician, who had been called. Self walked about the scene of the accident, complaining only of pain in his left shoulder. The physician drove him to his home at Skinner road and Pershing avenue, where he set the left collar bone, which had been broken. A small flow of blood from Self's left ear was then noticed, indicating to the doctor that his skull had been fractured at the base of the brain.

Self Died Sunday.
Self was at once taken to St. Luke's Hospital, where he lost consciousness as he was being carried inside. He was operated upon and a blood transfusion made in an attempt to save his life. Jack Ball of Webb City, a Washington University student, and friend of Self, gave the blood, being selected from five fraternity brothers of Self who made the offer. The effort was vain, however, and Self died Sunday afternoon, a short time before his father, Harry W. Self, arrived from Webb City after being notified of the accident.

Scott, the son of Benjamin P. Scott, a department manager for the Wrought Iron Range Co., took a prominent part in student musical comedies the three years he was at the University of Missouri. He was also an athlete, having won high jumping and other medals while at Wentworth Military Academy. He and Self were members of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

NEW YORK, May 13.

The tripe they fed us on, mess-mates. Was good as tripe could be. But a sailor can't ship on tripe alone. And that's why we quit the sea. —Davy Jones.

The record of the sea, full of thrilling narratives of rescue and heroism, gained a novel addition last night when the first sailors ever to be arrested in this port for mutiny because of "too much stewed tripe" were brought in from the large office.

The seamen were two negroes, E. Griffith, 28, of Houston, Tex., and Palo Perez, 30, of Porto Rico. They were taken off the American three-masted schooner, Barnsdell, off West Bank Light, in the lower bay, by an armed detachment from the coast guard cutter, Seneca.

Gyms or Jugs?

Former Governor Brumbaugh of Pennsylvania says that more money is spent in this country to keep prisoners in jails than to keep them out. And he adds that 71% of the prisoners are under the voting age.

That is exactly the age that the "Y" reaches. It offers a Gym instead of a "Jug." It offers a swimming pool instead of a workhouse quarry. It has clean rooms to live in, good books to read, fit companions to go with, moral and spiritual leadership, and night schools as a way to material success in life.

This is not charity any more than a great endowed University is. Practically all that the "Y" asks is the equipment...the "Character Buildings" of a great city. Once erected, they are very nearly self-supporting...patronized by self-respecting boys and young men.

St. Louis has not hesitated to provide bonds in vast measure for the physical side of its future development. What are we going to do about the men? Shall they drift, unguided, as the temptations of city life may carry them...or will we give them a fair, square chance?

St. Louis, Sixth in population is 42nd in young men's clubs. It has about the same Y.M.C.A. equipment as Shreveport, La., or Green Bay, Wis. When you are asked to subscribe to the Y.M.C.A. Development Program, ask yourself which is the best investment...Gyms or Jugs?

MUNDELEIN GIVES PRAYER OF THANKS AT HIS FIRST MASS

Chicago's New Cardinal Speaks to Four Archbishops and 31 Bishops.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 12.—Cardinal Mundelein today celebrated his first public mass when four Archbishops and 31 Bishops surrounded him at solemn pontifical mass at Holy Name Cathedral.

The Cardinal, with Archbishop Messer, Milwaukee; Archbishop Dowling, St. Paul; Archbishop Shaw, New Orleans; and Archbishop Keane, Dubuque, enthroned about him, spoke words of gratefulness. Bishop E. M. Dunne, Peoria, was the mass celebrant, and Bishop P. J. Muldoon, Rockford, delivered the sermon. The Cardinal said:

"There comes occasionally in the lifetime of some of us a day when the heart is overflowing with gratitude. Such a day has come for me. I have just come back from the steps of the papal throne. The words of welcome and praise from his lips still linger in my ears, and the warmth of his fatherly embrace remains with me like a benediction. He has laden me and my people with favors, and he has bestowed on me the greatest honor in his gift."

"When now I return to my people, I find the arms of the city open to receive me. It is likewise a day of thanksgiving for this city and this diocese. Today it ranks with the capitals of the world. Never have the people of Chicago or their priests disappointed me; never had I cause to complain of them in the past, never will they fail me in the future in any work we may undertake for the glory of God and the salvation of souls."

POST-DISPATCH EDITORIAL INSPIRES TWO SERMONS

Rev. Father Andrew F. Browne Praised Sentiments Expressed in Paper on "Mothers' Day."

A "Mothers' Day" editorial in the Post-Dispatch last Sunday was the inspiration for sermons delivered that morning at the two late masses at St. Alphonsus' (Rock) Church, Grand boulevard and Finney avenue, by the Rev. Father Andrew F. Browne.

The editorial, approving the custom of observing "Mothers' Day," asserted that motherhood is the most potent influence upon lives of human beings. It urged that sentiments attaching to observance of "Mothers' Day" be continually in mind.

Father Browne called attention to the editorial in his sermon and urged his hearers to get a copy of the Post-Dispatch and read it. "It is a very hopeful sign when a great metropolitan daily newspaper will give its space on Sunday morning to such sentiments," Father Browne said in his sermon. After mention of the editorial he gave a sermon based on the thoughts it suggested.

"I had intended to give a sermon on an entirely different subject," Father Browne said afterward. "But I read the editorial Sunday morning and it struck me as being so sound, so solid and so ethical that I changed my mind and talked on the editorial."

AMERICAN IMMIGRATION LAW HAS LITTLE EFFECT IN RUSSIA

18,000 Families Register for U. S. Passports to Be Admitted at 2000 a Year.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News, Copyright, 1924.

MOSCOW, May 12.—The American immigration bill has aroused remarkably little comment here, although Russia is much interested. Of the 24,424 Russians permitted to enter under the old quota, 15,000 came direct from Russia itself, and the remainder from outside the Soviet area.

More than 90 per cent of the Russian emigrants are Jews, and nine-tenths of these come from the Minsk and Kiev areas. Shipping companies hold large amounts of money prepaid for passage, usually by relatives in the United States. Eighteen thousand families, numbering more than 50,000 persons, have already secured registration numbers for American passports.

Under the new quota they will be admitted only at the rate of 2000 per year. Immigration agents here do not consider that the more liberal exemptions recently granted under the American regulations will materially increase the numbers.

Canada's new immigration regulation compelling every Eastern European immigrant to obtain the written permission of the chief of the immigration department in Ottawa before starting is regarded as virtually closing Canada altogether. The emigrant business here is mainly in the hands of British Canadians, representing the White Star, Cunard and Canadian Pacific lines. There are no American agents here.

WRITERS' GUILD PRESIDENT

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 12.—With the exception of the Horse-shoe plant, the Schoenberger mill of the American Steel and Wire Co. here suspended operations today, twelve hundred employees were

There is a label with this trade mark

on every article that Simmons makes

Make sure it is a Simmons mattress by finding the Simmons label

So much of the value and lasting comfort of an honest mattress is hidden under its ticking, that you need more than your eye to guide you when you go in to buy.

That is why we label every Simmons mattress—so you can be sure of one vital quality never visible from the outside.

That quality is cleanliness. A mattress must be clean inside, built of fresh new materials, to be safe for you to sleep on. Many mattresses cannot meet this test.

With the cost of new cotton and other mattress materials advancing steadily, the temptation to use second-hand, "re-worked" materials salvaged sometimes from dumps and junk yards has become too strong for some makers to resist.

What's under the ticking?

The danger of contagion to the buyer, the dirt and filth are all covered up with an attractive "art" ticking. The resulting cheat is sold at a price below what a mattress of new materials must bring.

For makers of honest, competitive mattresses, Simmons has only the warmest friendship. For the cheating "substitute" mattress, against which you need to be on guard, we are always on the warpath.

There is one sure way to avoid such doubtful bedding and get Simmons quality, economy and years of luxurious comfort. That way is to look for and find the Simmons label on any mattress you buy.

Many prices—but all clean

The label is there, in plain sight, trade-marked, impossible to imitate. It identifies every mattress in the wide Simmons range of styles and prices, whether it is a Purple Label, Blue Label, Red Label, Green Label, Brown Label, Yellow Label, White Label or Gray Label.

It is your guarantee, not only of fresh, new ticking outside, but also of clean, new materials inside the ticking.

The price you pay is always the lowest at which a mattress built of such safe, new materials can be sold. Comfort, health and lasting quality make a Simmons the cheapest mattress you can buy. Leading dealers everywhere sell them.

Write for "Restful Bedrooms" to The Simmons Co., 1347 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago

How to Make Strawberry Jam in 15 Minutes

By Ann Proctor

The most delicious strawberry jam you ever tasted—chock full of the natural color and flavor—can be made at home by anyone within 15 minutes after the berries are washed and crushed. I use the CERTO method because it takes only one minute's boiling, thus saving sugar and color, never fails, and is cheaper because I get one-half more jam from the same amount of berries.

To make 12 large glasses of Strawberry Jam, use this simple recipe:

Crush about 2 quarts ripe berries in separate portions, so that one berry is mashed. This allows fruit to quickly absorb the sugar during the short boil. Measure 4 level cups (2 lbs.) crushed berries into large kettle, add 7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hot water and stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard for one minute, remove from fire and stir in 1/2 bottle (scant 1/2 cup) CERTO. From time jam is taken off fire allow to stand not over 5 minutes in the clock, before pouring. In the meantime, skim, and stir occasionally to cool slightly. Then pour quickly.

Use same recipe for Raspberry, Blackberry or Dewberry Jam. By this short "CERTO" process you save all the color and flavor that boiled away by the old method. Time and worry are saved and you have 5 lbs. of jam from 2 lbs. of berries as against 3 lbs. by the old method; and the cost with the berries and 10c sugar is less than 10c per glass.

CERTO is simply the "left" property of fruit, refined and concentrated. It contains no poisonous preservative and is obtainable at grocers everywhere.

The above recipe and nearly 100 others for making delicious jellies and jams by the "CERTO" process are found in the "CERTO" Book of Recipes, a copy of which is attached to every bottle of CERTO.

Use CERTO this year in making all your jams and jellies. It saves time, worry and boiling. The "CERTO" process saves time and money, because you make half as much more jam from the same amount of fruit. It is endorsed by national authorities and cooking experts. Jelly and jam made with CERTO keep perfectly.

LYOYD ADDRESSES WOMEN

Only persons who vote at primaries and elections have the moral right afterwards to condemn acts of officials then elected. Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, said yesterday at a luncheon of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Turnbund at the American Annex Hotel.

"It is the duty of every citizen to vote—just as it is the duty of every citizen to obey the law, pay taxes and perform other duties of citizenship," he said. He added that granting of suffrage to women places upon them equal responsibility with men in conduct of the Government. Lloyd was on the speaking program of the Republican Women's Club meeting at Webster Groves Masonic Hall this afternoon.

GIRL FOUND SLAIN NEAR GLASGOW, MO.

DAISY ASHBY.

THIS 14-year-old girl dropped from sight at midnight, February 2, presumably as she was walking home by lantern light after an evening spent in Glasgow, Mo., two miles from her father's farm. Last Thursday, more than three months after her disappearance, her nude body was discovered under a brush pile a half mile from her home. A coroner's jury decided she had been strangled to death.

Two men are in jail at Keokuk, Mo., charged with her murder, of which they deny knowledge. They had a short conversation with her in Glasgow the evening of Feb. 2, but insist they never met her before or after that time and had started for their homes in Gilliam, Mo., before she disappeared. Their stories are being investigated by Sheriff Wilks of Charlton County. This photograph was made about a year ago. At the age of 14 Daisy Ashby appeared to be two years older and weighed 140 pounds.

Jacobson Triples With Two on Bases; Danforth Pitches

By J. Roy Stockton.

Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

BOSTON, May 13.—After four days of rain, which caused three postponements, the Browns resumed the business of baseball this afternoon, opposing the Boston Red Sox in the only remaining game of the series.

Dave Danforth, over whom Lee Fohl and the Browns had their final squabble, pitched for Sisler's men.

He was opposed by Howard Ehmke, the lone star of the Boston hurling staff.

The Browns depart tonight for New York to engage the league-leading Yankees in a four-game series. Tomorrow Babe Ruth will get his diploma and the world championship pennant will be raised at the Yankee stadium. It also will be Sisler's first appearance at the New Yankee park. The game:

FIRST INNING.

BROWNS.—Tobin flied to Veatch. Robertson singled to center and was out trying to steal. O'Neill to Lee. Sisler was given a great hand by the crowd as he went to the bat. He was tossed out by Ehmke. NO RUNS.

SEVENTH INNING.

BROWNS.—Tobin was applauded by the crowd as he went to the dugout. Gerber hit by a pitched ball. Danforth beat out a hit to Lee. Tobin flied to O'Neill. Robertson singled to left, scoring Gerber. Ehmke attempted to pick Danforth off second and as Danforth slid into second, he applied Lee in the thigh, but he remained in the game. Sisler forced Danforth at third. Shanks unassisted. Williams flied to Veatch. ONE RUN.

Present Amateur Rule Out of Date, Tilden Asserts

Tennis Champion Likely to Withdraw Resignation From Davis Cup Team.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 13.—Virtual assurance that William T. Tilden, 11, would be a member of this year's Davis Cup tennis team was contained in the announcement today that the national champion would withdraw his resignation from the United States Tennis Association called a special meeting to reconsider the player-writer rule which next year would move Tilden from the amateur to the professional ranks.

Late last night George W. Whitman, president of the U. S. T. A., announced that he would recommend that such a move be called by the Executive Committee of the association. Tilden also agreed to abide by the meeting's decision if the vote upheld the player-writer interpretation which has caused such furor in tennis circles since it was adopted in March.

Tilden's Action Unexpected.
The champion's statement came as an unexpected development in the controversy and gave the first definite intimation that he would alter his attitude on the player-writer rule under any circumstances.

By the Associated Press.
CAMBRIDGE, May 12.—University of Pennsylvania made a clean sweep of the regatta on the Charles River yesterday, easily winning the varsity, junior varsity and 150-pound crew races in every case by a wide margin.

In the senior event, Penn's heavy eight, stroked by Don D. Smith of Green Bay, Wis., romped over the finish line five lengths ahead of Harvard, its only competitor. In the junior varsity, the Penn crewmen had some 10 lengths to the good, with Technology second and Harvard trailing. Penn's lead over Harvard in the 150-pound crew race, rowed over the Henley distance, was four lengths.

The regatta was held under adverse weather conditions—a strong northeast wind and rough water. Postponement of the regatta Saturday because of bad weather led to the withdrawal of Columbia's varsity and junior varsity crews, the faculty refusing them permission to remain over.

Pennsylvania's time was 9m 43s and Harvard's 10m.

TWENTY HORSES, EXPECTED TO PARADE FOR THE KENTUCKY DERBY

Withdrawal of Three Big Stars From $65,000 Race Expected to Swell Entry

Retirement of Wise Counsellor in Line With Early Season Tip That Cracked Hoof Had Not Healed—New Totalizer on Betting Machines Fails to "Deliver."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 13.—With Wise Counsellor out of the Derby there is a probability that there will be at least twenty starters for the classic, next Saturday. The announcement made by John S. Ward, trainer, that Wise Counsellor would not start in the Preakness or Derby came as a shock to the friends of the trainer as well as the colt.

Expert trainers have predicted for the past two months that Wise Counsellor would not do for the Preakness or the Derby. All winter Mr. Ward gave the son of Mentor long gallops on the tank-bar over the long shed where he was stalled. The foot which he favored last fall seemed to have filled out and the quarter crack had healed.

But when Wise Counsellor was brought out of winter quarters for work on the main course, it was noticed he still wore bar plates. This made the sharp eye work of the trainers suspicious and it was reported to their clients that all was not well with the champion of last year.

While Wise Counsellor trained along, it was observed that he did not take any too kindly to his task. In other words, he became a bit nervous with each succeeding workout and began to lose weight. Trainer Ward "bathed" the colt all along. After every breeze it seemed that he would not come back for more until after several days. When Wise Counsellor worked his last time, before being shipped to Baltimore, the best he could do was a mile in 1:41 3-5.

Wise Birds Deserted Counsellor.

All the clockers noticed the colt tire and sprawl at the finish, and then there cancelled him for Derby honors. The colt's lameness evidently grew worse after arriving at Baltimore. But Ward had hopes all the time he could get him to the post for the Preakness. It is likely that when Ward breezed the colt Sunday his lameness became more pronounced, and he failed to cool out of it later. Then he was told he announced the colt would not start in the Preakness or the Derby.

Worthmore may have been substituted for Wise Counsellor, but but Ward had previously shipped Worthmore with Indian Trail to Aqueduct and he was not on the ground to take Wise Counsellor's place. So the West did not have a representative in the Preakness. Nellie Morse, the winner, is not eligible to the Derby, by the way.

When Trainer Webb, who looks after Black Gold was told that Wise Counsellor would not be a starter in the Derby, he smiled sweet across his face as if he had been relieved of a great burden. He said:

Couldn't Scare Black Gold Out.

"Well, my colt has been ready for a long time to meet all comers. If all the champions are on the shelf naturally it gives Black Gold a better chance. None of them, though, would have scared my colt out. He is here to run and I believe he will give a good account of himself."

Peter Coyne, trainer and owner of King Gorlin II, said that his colt would start in the Derby next Saturday and that his jockey, Mack Garner would pilot him. "The form showed by the son of Golden Maxima last Saturday when he won going away in the mud, was convincing," said Coyne. "King Gorlin II is a fair colt and worthy of a chance for Derby honors and that chance he is going to get."

Scott Harlan, trainer for Mrs. Payne Whitney, arrived at the Downs yesterday with Wild Aster, Mrs. Whitney's Derby candidate. He was accompanied by Frank Colletti, who will ride Wild Aster in the Derby. When Wild Aster defeated Braddock, one of the Rancocas Stable's Derby eligibles, at Jamaica last week in a fast race, it was decided to bring the colt on to Louisville to fill his engagement in the Derby.

Altwood a Mudder.

"Ham" Keene, who is training the good colt Altwood for C. Bruce Head, is another horseman who is wearing a confident smile over the chances of his charge.

"The colt that beats Altwood is going to get the first money in the Derby," declared Keene this morning. "Altwood could be doing no better than he is and after his work in the mud Sunday morning a mile in 44 4-5, I am convinced he is

Athletics, After 11 Straight Defeats Return to Cellar

Surprise of the Season Follows Failure of Mack to Run Near Top.

Connie Mack is back at his old stand—last place in the American League. After the lanky leader of the Athletics broke up his pennant-winning team in the winter of 1914, he became a cellar tenant until the campaign of 1922. Then his nine got out of last place and last year also quit eighth place. But this spring matters have taken on a turn for the worse. And this, in spite of the fact that the Athletics were picked by many to be the "dark horse" of the Johnson circuit flag race and selected to finish well up in the first division. However, 10 straight games, and are firmly entrenched in the cellar. Mack's pitchers have not been pitching, while his hitters have not been hitting.

When during the winter, Mack bought three high-priced stars. He banked heavily on these three men—Simmons from Milwaukee, Strand from Salt Lake and Bishop from Baltimore.

Simmons has come through. He has added a lot of punch. But Strand and Bishop have failed.

Preakness Victor Not to Start in Kentucky Derby

Nellie Morse Will Run in Kentucky Oaks at Churchill Downs, However.

By G. F. T. Ryall.

PIMLICO, Md., May 13.—Nellie Morse, skimming like a swallow over a track fetlock deep in mud, won the Preakness of $54,000 here yesterday. H. P. Whitney's Transmute, driving and mud-spattered till the "light blue and brown" looked all brown, finished second, a length and a half behind the winner and about the same distance in front of the Rancocas Stable's Mad Play, favorite for the rich fixture.

It takes a good filly to beat the colts at level weights in the spring of the year, and by the same token the brown daughter of Luke McLuke-La Vengeance takes her 3-year-olds. Only a few days ago she won the Pimlico Oaks, and she will go to Churchill Downs to run for the Kentucky Oaks, she not being entered for the Derby.

She paid $28.20 for a $2 mutual ticket, or slightly better than 12 to 1. She ran the mile and a furlong in 1:57 1-5.

EX-KAISER SAID TO HAVE LEFT HOLLAND

Ostensible Purpose of Trip to Germany Is to Visit His Stepchildren.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The former Kaiser and Princess Hermine, his wife, left Doorn, Holland today for Saarbrücken, Germany, according to a message broadcast from Neuen, Germany, and picked up by the New York World's wireless. Saarbrücken is Hermine's home.

The Neuen broadcasting station, the most powerful in Germany, is controlled by the German Government, but a good deal of nationalistic-inspired rumor has come from it.

If the report is true, the German Government has reversed its policy toward the former Kaiser. Germany has assumed the allies repeatedly that Wilhelm Hohenzollern would not be permitted to return to Germany soil. The Powers are said to consider his presence in Silesia as an especial menace because the

FREE STATE OFFERS $50,000 FOR MEN WHO KILLED BRITISH

By the Associated Press.

DUBLIN, May 12.—The Free State Government today issued a proclamation offering £10,000 reward for information leading to the conviction of five men, said to be responsible for the attack at Cobh, March 21, on a leave party of the Royal Garrison Artillery when one British soldier was killed; one officer seriously wounded and 17 soldiers and five civilians struck by machine gun bullets.

The proclamation named the men, gave full descriptions of them and offered £10,000 to the first person to cause the arrest of all five, and £1,000 for the arrest of any one. Names of the five were given as Daniel Donavan, 26, Cork; Frank Russell, 25, Blarney; Jim Grey, 25, Cork; M. Grey, 26, his brother, and Peter O'Shea, Cork.

Province is one of the most strongly monarchist sections of the Republic. The former ruler had not previously returned to Germany since he fled the country, Nov. 9, 1918. He at first was an exile in Amerongen, Holland, but later moved to Doorn, where he has remained in seclusion ever since. He was not even permitted to go to Berlin for his first wife's funeral. In 1922 he married Princess Hermine. At the time it was widely reported she was ambitious for her husband to return to the throne.

MALE DEMOCRAT TO BE PUT ON SCHOOL BOARD

William F. Fahey, Lawyer, Recommended to Mayor for the Vacancy.

By the Associated Press.

A male Democrat will be appointed to the vacancy in the Board of Education which will exist after the resignation of Jesse A. McDonald is accepted at tonight's meeting of the board, Mayor Kiel, who will have to make the appointment, announced this much today.

William F. Fahey, a lawyer, who served as private secretary to two superintendents of the St. Louis schools, the late F. Louis Soldan and the late Ben Blewett, has been recommended to the Mayor by a number of persons. Those endorsing Fahey include officials of banks and corporations, Congressman I. C. Dyer and Martin J. Collins.

Robert Rutledge, real estate dealer, has written to the Mayor asking to be considered for the appointment. The suggestion that former United States Senator X. P. Willey be named to the place has also been made. The Mayor, who appointed one of the two present women members of the board, has decided not to consider a woman for this particular vacancy.

Members of the board say they will make no move at tonight's meeting toward the removal of Henry Heier, a member of the board. Heier has lately apologized to Richard Murphy, a fellow member, and to Miss Anna J. Kelley, principal of the O'Fallon School, for his false statements to the effect that religious exercises were conducted at the school, by order of Miss Kelley and with Murphy's approval.

One member of the board today expressed the view that Heier's usefulness as a member of the board was at an end, but inasmuch as the two persons chiefly concerned have expressed satisfaction with Heier's apology, it does not appear that any action to force his withdrawal will be taken.

PARTS OF SQUALODONT FOUND ON SHARK TOOTH MOUNTAIN

Skeleton of Mammal Discovered in California Weighs 250 Pounds

By the Associated Press.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., May 12.—What are believed to be the most complete portions ever discovered of a squalodont, a mammal that existed in the miocene age from one-half million to two million years ago, have been found by Charles Morrice, a student of prehistoric life, on Shark Tooth Mountain, near the Kern River Oil Fields.

Reconstruction of the squalodont, Morrice said today, have been made in Germany, Austria and England from much less portions of the mammal than he has found. The skeleton weighs 250 pounds and has a head larger than that of an elephant. Morrice will inform Government officials of his find.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—An opportunity to observe the habits of the dinosaur, the brontosaurus, the allosaur and other strange birds and beasts that roamed in the West 10,000,000 years ago was presented in moving picture films today to the delegates attending the annual meeting of the American Association of Museums. ## SON-IN-LAW SLATED FOR MURPHY'S POST

Surrogate Foley Favored by District Leaders for Chiefship of Tammany.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Members of Tammany Hall generally predicted today that Surrogate James A. Foley, son-in-law of the late Charles F. Murphy, would be elected leader tomorrow by the Executive Committee. A canvass of district leaders has disclosed that the desire to support the presidential nomination of Gov. Alfred E. Smith and the belief that only a man, acquainted with the plans of Murphy, could aid the Governor had virtually eliminated all opposition to Foley.

There is but one recalcitrant district chief out against the Surrogate, John F. Curry, who, in an open letter to the Executive Committee, again demands that a leader be taken from those not aligned with the old guard.

The Curry missive has had little if any effect on the other district chiefs, who are generally in accord with the attitude that the election of Surrogate Foley is a foregone conclusion.

Gasoline Prices Lowest

AFTER extensive analysis of government statistics, The Oil & Gas Journal, of March 20, 1924, says:

"Gasoline is and has been the lowest priced commodity generally used during the past eleven years, and its average cost during that period has been always lower than the average price of all commodities."

Taking 1913 price level as 100, the January, 1924, price level of all commodities is 151—while the price of gasoline is only 97.

Thus it is shown that in January, 1924, the dollar would actually buy more gasoline than it would in 1913.

The statement of the Oil & Gas Journal bears out the statements oft repeated by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) that the price of gasoline is low.

That the petroleum industry has been able to keep down the price of gasoline is an achievement worthy of note.

It demonstrates the efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and other similar institutions.

This result has been accomplished without in any way sacrificing quality of product, nor has it been accompanied by any decrease of service.

For example, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is constantly expanding its vast net-work of service stations, located, necessarily, on high-priced property in order to be accessible to the main arteries of travel. These stations are open for service, days, evenings, Sundays and holidays.

In addition, huge sums of money have been expended by this Company for other equipment—bulk storage depots, pumps, tank wagons, and other items necessary to render a complete and comprehensive service—yet with all these large expenditures the price level of gasoline in 1924 was lower than in 1913.

All of which is in support of the ideals animating the Management of this Company—a combination of high quality, best service, and low prices.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, May 12.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"The selling which made itself apparent on yesterday having disappeared, the stock market today backed into dullness today with prices recovering mildly. The shorts made no general attempt to depress prices but contented themselves with drives at a few isolated industrials. These attempts were fairly successful, but the immediate objects had failed, as did the more pretentious efforts of yesterday, to bring out any important amount of liquidation. Meanwhile there were signs of a fair amount of covering in other directions. Sentiment was mixed but commission houses reported fairly good buying on weak issues. The apathetic character of trading was illustrated by the fact that total sales amounted to only 10,000 shares. Bonds were dull and generally steady. Call money held at 15 per cent throughout."

Exchange Market Quiet

"Exchange returned to the foreign exchange market with franc purchasing only a mild exception. Sterling held within an extremely narrow range and gained 1/2¢ to 1/4¢ at 12 1/2¢. Changes in most of the other European currencies were small and were irregularly distributed. Even in French francs the day's movement was contained within a range of 10 points, thus showing that the franc market had recovered from the surprise caused by the election results and, on second thought, found nothing in them to create disturbance. French currency sold as low as 232 cents and as high as 234 cents. At a late price of 232 1/2 cents it was up 2 points on the day. Belgian francs were in fairly steady demand all day and gained 6 points at 47 1/2 cents.

"Well-known observers at London meanwhile pointed out that the change of Government in France is not likely to result in any radical alteration in the broad outlines of French foreign policy. These observers believe that in so far as the new Government's attitude is likely to be different from that of the old it will tend to accelerate progress toward a reparations settlement. Such a conclusion seems to be justified by impartial survey of the circumstances. Meanwhile cable from Paris emphasized the strength of the franc's position and reiterated the French Government's preparation to take whatever measures might be necessary to protect it. Finally, however, the franc seems to be able to maintain itself in free market."

Sugar is Lower

"Aided from weakness in sugar which carried Cuban sales off a fresh low of 2 1/2 cents, the commodity markets were quiet and steady. Cotton furnished a trading market in which weather reports were of leading influence and held with a narrow price range. After a early dip on profit-taking and lower prices at Liverpool, the July futures rallied well and was practically unchanged at a late price of 28 1/2 cents. May wheat gained 1/4¢ of cent at 1.04 1/4¢."

NEW YORK, May 13.—Steel and oil stocks recovered some of the ground lost Monday in today's stock market dealings. Covering orders in the active industrial leaders were heavy at times and resulted in substantial upturns in Republic Iron and Steel, American Can, United States Steel common and Bethlehem Steel. The greater part of the list closed higher with prices well up to the best of the day.

No further cuts were announced in crude oil prices, and the pressure was lifted from the oil stocks. Maryland got across 30 again, and Pacific Oil across 46. Texas Company was steadier around 39, and Phillips Petroleum came back over 40 point. Opinion was still divided as to whether there would be any further downward price adjustment, but it was pretty well agreed that the 25-cents-a-barrel cut of last Saturday had been discounted.

Hudson Motors was the one weak spot in the motor group. At 20 1/2% it was within a point and a half of record low. The new Studebaker stock was thought receiving better support just above 32. On the other hand, Pierce-Arrow comm made a new low. Among the motor accessories Stewart-Warner recovered somewhat after its bre

BORAH STOPS TESTIMONY ABOUT WHEELER'S FEE

Says He Is Not Interested in Amount Paid to Senator for Work in Montana.

WANTS INQUIRY QUICKLY ENDED

Wheeler Again Denies He Appeared Before Interior Department for Oil Operator.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the committee appointed to investigate the indictment in Montana of Senator Wheeler, has not troubled during the last two or three sessions of the committee to conceal his impatience with the character of the charges against Wheeler.

It is a safe guess that Borah will bring in a report completely exonerating the Montana Senator. Whatever doubt may have existed as to Borah's intention was dispelled yesterday when he curtly told Senator Sterling of South Dakota, who has taken the role of prosecutor of Wheeler, that he wanted the investigation wound up that afternoon.

"I want to get this out of the way," said Borah, "so we can take up some really important matters." Sterling said that he might desire to subpoena witnesses after Wheeler had concluded his testimony.

"Not one witness has been called at our instance," he declared. "Who are your?" asked Senator Caraway (Dem.) of Arkansas. Sterling replied rather vaguely that there were persons who wanted to get at the truth of the matter, but by a method somewhat different from that which was being followed.

Borah heatedly resented what he said was the implication that he had refused to call witnesses for Sterling. He said that every person whose name had been given to him had been called. Sterling hastened to deny that he had charged anything to the contrary.

"You can have all the witnesses you want," said Borah.

He added that he had brought some for 1000 miles only to find that they had nothing to tell. After hearing Wheeler, who concluded the statement he began last Friday, the committee adjourned to meet in executive session this afternoon.

Wheeler reiterated and particularized his denial that he had ever appeared before any Government department in the interest of Gordon Campbell, an oil operator. He repeated that his legal services for Campbell were wholly in the State courts of Montana.

Senator Sterling again sought to show that these services were not commensurate with the size of the fee charged by Wheeler and his law partner. Wheeler replied by producing the records of his law firm, which indicated that Wheeler and Baldwin had represented Campbell in 18 or 19 lawsuits in Montana. Wheeler said he had often charged a larger fee for less work.

Borah impatiently chopped off this phase of the examination, by asserting that he did not care how much Wheeler charged or how little he got. Questions by Senators Caraway and Swanson (Dem.) of Virginia, made it plain that they will support Borah in his expected exoneration of Wheeler.

"SAXES" WILL MOAN IN HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT

A saxophone ensemble will be a feature of the concert to be given tomorrow night in Cleveland High School, Virginia avenue and Osceola street, by the combined junior elementary school orchestras.

There are about 80 elementary school orchestras in the city, with about 1600 members. They are divided into senior and junior groups, and some 400 of the junior group are to give the concert. Sections by the violin class, and the Mark Twain School Glee Club, are other features of the program.

Thursday night, in the same place a vocal concert will be given by about 750 pupils of the fifth and sixth grades. Friday night, the combined high school choruses will give a concert in the same place. They will be assisted by Willibald Kasten, pianist; Helen Traubel, Carpenter, soprano; and Max Muller, cellist. Eugene M. Hahnel, supervisor of music, is director of the concert.

Ministers Indorse Methodist Unity. Ministers of the Methodist Church, South, meeting yesterday in Centenary Church, indorsed the movement for unification with the Methodist Episcopal Church, which has been forwarded by the action of the M. E. General Conference now in session in Springfield, Mo. The ministers in a resolution unanimously adopted, expressed the hope that the Bishops of the Southern church would call a special session of its General Conference, to act on the same matter.

GIVING MUSIC A MEANING

By WM. A. McKee

Lecturer and Writer on Music and Sociological Subjects

PARENTS and other children to study their music. Little difficulty is found in listening to the music, but much more in understanding it. A necessity of driving the girls to their practice. What matter? Are the unskillful of music held sufficient to the mind of the young man? You give him an idea of influence for good rather than urge selfish purposes? Can you not make him realize that in the study of his music he is acquiring a universal language? No what dialect or tongue is as the vehicle of the rhythm and the spirit of the music will enter the heart and emotions of men and women. It may be heard. Very few of the people enraptured for hours with the heat of the music. Yet there is something about it that is beautiful and goes deep into the man's heart.

It is something of this universality in music that need to keep in mind would urge their boys and go on with the practice. Forget the idea of advantage and vain display the mind of the child. Music is a more highly prized in the of those with whom he is. Teach him that his music make it easier for him others and for others to form well and not merely may possess money clothes.

THE RHYTHM OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICH

The Bond.

It takes all kinds of this busy, whirling men and men of iron men when they are versed in mysterious ing's hidden store, the lands and seas and nations' lore. And some folk untainted in art, unschooled in thought and learning's Some lives are cheerful, gray, to roles obscure, white some go by like that waste upon the poor or rich or dull or wise or low estate, then made ter or for sighs, the hum great, have all one high, trail when they are because in all men, too there glows the spark of though from foreign hall or though they wait this heritage will never pass away. And a man I meet of every though he wins triumph and high or humble play he may seem first in difficult and again, how it is to find. I seek the I know that it is lurking spite his gruff, unfriendly search it out. Some kinds of men were here of thoughts and dreams upon this spinning globe still we find them climbing men climbing, men who it's a fascinating game good in all.

The Woman of It

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

IS WOMAN HUMAN?

Why, when she's trained a man to lie for her, is she surprised that he lies to her?

Why, since she demands a Perfect Lover, should she object to that practice which alone makes perfection?

Why won't she understand that, while she plays every game for keeps, man plays only for fun?

Why is she insulted if you tell her you want to kiss her—or if you act as if you didn't?

What reason has she for wanting what she can't have—besides the fact that she can't have it?

Does she admire her sex? If you want to find out, tell her that she's just like other women. (We assume no responsibility for injuries incurred in following this advice.)

Of course, it's foolish to ask why woman is not the correct query is, "Why not?" And so, My Son, you will learn to take woman as you find her. And you will find her—and take her.

MEDITATIONS OF A MARRIED WOMAN

By HELEN ROWLAND

HUSBANDS—AND OTHERS.

MOST men seem to expect a Venus or a Minerva to arise from the dish-pan.

The old-fashioned lover had a lot more to look forward to in marriage than the modern sheik—and considerably less to look back.

A hero is a man who can look his wife, in the eye, at breakfast, and tell her that he isn't coming home to dinner—instead of waiting until he gets to the office and telephoning her.

A clever man knows how to make his exit from a flirtation effectively, to slow music; but a real artist is one who knows how to make the girl ring down the curtain herself.

Once upon a time a man FOUND his ideal Woman—a girl who scorned to use rouge, wore made-over frocks and knew how to cook. He found her sitting against the wall at a dance—and LEFT her there.

When a man's heart is broken, he merely picks up the pieces and offers them to another girl as a "precious relic."

A broad-minded man may cheerfully admit that a girl has a perfect right to do the proposing; but when he hears anything that sounds like it, it frightens him—like the toot of a motor horn close to the ear.

Men are beginning to go through the formula of a "petting party" with almost the same automatic precision and inertia with which they take their morning "daily dozen." But you can't expect a man to have much enthusiasm for a kiss when you make it an obligation instead of a privilege.

Sometimes a married woman has to go to a "beauty parlor" in order to be told what wonderful eyelashes she has.

Nothing ever quite outshines the memory of a man's first love—except, perhaps, the memory of his first pair of long trousers.

NEW GREENS FOR OLD

By HANNAH WING

A Recognized Authority on Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

THE appearance of fresh dandelion greens in the market places is a certain sign of spring. This lowly vegetable is, however, not as humble as it seems. The young tender and delicate pale inner leaves are as delicious a salad plant as watercress, their slightly bitter flavor replacing the tonic quality of the more peppery cress.

Dressed with an oil dressing they may be used as a garnish for more aristocratic salad materials. Snipped with scissors into fine bits and mixed with that other vegetable of the spring, the green onion, they make a salad that is truly snappy. If tart red apples are diced and added to the salad and the whole well salted the combination is perfect.

Add a sweet red pepper minced, seasoned with celery salt and set the whole salad in a tart sauce, and you will have still another salad of the fresh greens. Fresh dandelions chopped and mixed with half as much well cooked cold macaroni and seasoned with salt, pepper, minced onion, make a good luncheon salad. Boiled dressing is preferable to mayonnaise for this and all dandelion because of its tartness.

As a sandwich filling finely minced dandelion leaf, well seasoned and mixed with salad dressing are surprisingly good. Smothered dandelions may owe their origin to the cooking customs of foreign lands, but the dish is pleasant enough to American palates. This dish is prepared by mincing two slices of bacon and frying it until crisp. Then add a cup of boiled salad dressing and stir until smooth. Add the dandelions cut in shreds and a tablespoon or two of minced onion. Toss and turn until the dandelions are wilted and tender and serve very hot.

Dandelions, like all greens, should be well seasoned after they have been cooked. This is best accomplished by draining and chopping them and then cooking for a few moments in the seasonings. Butter or bacon drippings, lemon juice or vinegar and a bit of minced onion with salt and pepper are the best seasonings to use. A tomato sauce goes very well indeed with the dandelion flavor either as greens or when the cold greens are used in such dishes as timbales or croquettes.

Household Hints

To cut hard butter, put a piece of the paper in which it has been wrapped over the edge of the blade, and cut with the edge thus covered. The butter will not crumble or stick to the knife.

Use a warm knife for slicing bacon. To cut new bread easily dip the knife blade first of all into boiling water.

The Young Chuck Gains Faith

Always to faith cling fast, I pray, Whatever may beset your way.

—Young Chuck.

IT WASN'T until he was almost to shore that the young Chuck that Farmer Brown's Boy was towing on an old log behind his boat understood at all what was happening. He had been so frightened as he was towed along over the flooded Green Meadows that he hadn't once noticed that he was drawing nearer and nearer to the shore.

The boat gently grounded on the shore. Farmer Brown's Boy took hold of the rope attached to the log on which the young Chuck was riding, and began to draw it toward him. It was then that the young Chuck suddenly awakened to his surroundings. You remember that he didn't know Farmer Brown's Boy. Now as he saw himself being drawn in toward the two-legged giant he was sure that it was for no good purpose. It was only a few feet to shore. The young Chuck plunged into the water and began to swim. My my, how he did make his little feet go! He paddled for all he was worth.

Farmer Brown's Boy chuckled. He hopped out on shore, and when the young Chuck reached land there was Farmer Brown's Boy waiting for him. The young Chuck couldn't turn back because there was no place for him to go. He had to come ashore. A moment before he had been filled with hope. Now all that hope was gone. But the young Chuck was no coward. No, sir, he was no coward. Drifting about on that old log out on the water he had felt wholly helpless. But when he felt land beneath his feet he didn't feel so helpless. If he could have he would have made all his hair stand on end. But his hair wouldn't stand because it was wet. However, he did manage to make himself look quite fierce, and he ground his teeth together and made the ugliest sounds. He did his best to make this two-legged giant think that he wasn't afraid. It really was very brave of him.

Farmer Brown's Boy just chuckled. He chuckled and chuckled. "You ungrateful little rascal," said he. "Here I have saved your life and you are offering to fight me. You're offering to fight your best friend. But of course you don't know it. Run along now, and see if you can keep out of trouble."

He stepped aside and let the young Chuck pass. The young Chuck made his black legs fairly fly. He was in a strange place and he didn't know where he was going. But he intended to get out of sight as soon as possible. Presently he came to a hole under some roots. He crept in there and for the first time since the water had driven him out of his home he felt safe.

Presently he came to a hole under some roots.

Then the young Chuck began to do some thinking. He began to wonder why that two-legged giant hadn't harmed him. As he thought it all over, from the time Farmer Brown's Boy had found him drifting on that old log to the moment when Farmer Brown's Boy had stepped aside, he began to see the truth.

"Why," said he to himself in a tone of great surprise, "why, I guess that two-legged giant didn't mean to do me any harm! If I should meet him again I wouldn't be afraid of him. It must be he is a friend. Only a friend would have brought me ashore." And right then the young Chuck gained faith. Somehow he knew, he just knew, that Farmer Brown's Boy was his friend and always would be his friend. It is a splendid thing to gain faith.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Dried Clothes.

It is wise to remove clothes from the line as soon as they are dry. They collect dust and frequently tear in weak spots when caught in a very high wind.

From Blanket to Quilt.

When the blankets begin to wear and are more or less unsightly, put one over the other, cover with a dainty sateen and tuck here and there. You will enjoy this pretty and warm quilt.

Just a Little Extra.

Make a large meat loaf—it is delicious cold next day. Slice it thin and put in a sandwich with a slice of Bermuda onion, which has been covered with olive oil for a half-hour before the sandwich is made.

When Stove Buying.

When buying a new gas range be careful to select one with the oven on the side where it will not obstruct the light from the burners. Consider the lighting, both day and night, of your kitchen before buying the stove.

How to Make Screens.

SCREENS have not been considered as seriously as they should be when artistic rooms are being planned. When a large area of blank wall space seems to be just about ruining the entire room, one can well find or make a screen that will just fit in perfectly and make a lovely spot out of what was not.

The best system in making your own screens is to buy the simple wood frames. On these you can stretch cretonne or blocked linen or unevenses. Japanese prints pasted on silver paper with the wooden frame of the screen painted black make an attractive addition to any room.

How can you have the very styles the fashionable women of Europe wear? Why because the first day those styles appeared, Butterick's Paris staff copied the news. Immediately Butterick patterns were made for every one of them!

The Secret of Loveliness
Paris creates styles—and Butterick knows the secret of how you can duplicate those ravishing styles. That is why Paris itself—Paris the luxurious, the fashionable—buys more Butterick patterns at 27, Avenue de l'Opera than are bought in any other pattern store in the world.

Each Paris style must be made its own way—that is the secret of having clothes that make you lovelier than other women. That is why Butterick is not satisfied with giving you the pattern alone but gives you with it the Deltor which shows you the secrets of making the Paris style—so that it has all the dash and distinction of the original model.

you an individual cutting layout. It is for your size and your view laid out on your width material. You will be delighted at the amount of material it saves you. Furthermore the Deltor shows you exactly how to make that dress as it would be made in Paris and how to give it those French finishing touches you see on imported models.

Easier than any other way
Making dresses with the Deltor is easier than you ever thought possible. This spring and summer you can have Paris dresses after Paris dresses—you make them so quickly with the Deltor and they cost you so little. Wear a real Paris dress the next place you go. LABOR WINS OVER VOTE OF CENSURE IN COMMONS

Government Triumphs in First Test Yet Moved Against It by British Tories in Voting to Strike Out the Import Duties on Automobiles.

BULK OF LIBERALS FOR REMOVING TARIFF

Their Support Given to Labor on Free Trade Issue; Lie Passed But Softened Into Parliamentary Phrase.

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON, London Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Government triumphed in the House of Commons last night over the first vote of censure yet moved against it by the Tories.

The censure motion was an attempt to prevent Chancellor of the Exchequer Snowden from removing the McKenna duties of 33.3 per cent on imported automobiles. The Labor majority of 65—the vote was 217 to 152—was composed of the solid Labor vote and the bulk of the Liberals, who supported the Government because the issue raised was one of free trade against protection. Only a few scattered Liberals voted against the Snowden budget, which former Premier Asquith had termed a "free trade budget."

Albert Purcell, Laborite from Coventry, the center of Great Britain's automobile industry, who had made speeches against the repeal of the duties as the self-styled spokesman for the workers of his constituency, abstained from voting.

Sharp Oratorical Exchanges.

The vote followed seven hours of oratory, which was enlivened by some sharp exchanges. Capt. Terrell, a Tory, accused Snowden of having lied when he said employers rather than automobile workers were opposed to repeal of the duties. There was much shouting and the Speaker ruled Terrell must withdraw the offensive word. This he did, substituting the phrase "inaccurate statement made by the Chancellor of the Exchequer."

Former Premier Baldwin, the Tory leader, headed the attack on Labor. He declared removal of the automobile duties was one of the stupidest things that had ever been done. He predicted great unemployment would be caused in the British motor trade, just as it was picking up and beginning to make headway in the foreign markets lost to the United States during the war. The Tories consistently have contended that cheap American cars, made under the mass production system, would flood this market and ruin the British industry.

No Color in the War Paint.

"I had expected," Chancellor Snowden remarked, in answering Baldwin, "knowing the almost unprecedented violence of the campaign raging in the newspapers, that members of the party opposite would have come to the House today in full war paint and shouting war whoops. Instead, the leader of the opposition's speech was a milk and watery production."

Snowden taunted his opponent with having forgotten he fought the last election on the issue of protection for manufactured goods, adding: "I know of nothing in my political experience more mean and dishonorable, in view of the way the country accepted these duties during the war, than that an attempt should be made now to keep them as part of our fiscal system."

Britain's Automobile Industry.

Snowden described Baldwin's picture of unemployment ironically as touching everyone's heart. He went on to show that there were not many workers in the automobile industry as recent accounts would have people believe—some of these estimates fixing the number as a million men in the British motor industry, which last year produced only 43,000 cars. The largest plant in the country, according to Snowden, has a payroll of only 4,952 employees. He said Henry Ford was in the main responsible for the price reductions which had taken place, and pointed out that in 1913, before the duties were introduced, Great Britain exported
